"The research program is in keeping with our continuing obligation to users of electricity in Idaho and Oregon and our responsibility for furthering the development of our service area," he declared. "The study will enable the company, on behalf of its customers, to keep abreast of new atomic developments that may ultimately lead to a more economical production source of electricity."

Roach said the nine companies have contracted "to engage in non-profit research into the economic possibilities of a nuclear reactor for the generation of electric power and for the utilization and disposal of its end products."

"Great amounts of research will be required to speed the day when atomic energy will become a feasible source of electric power generation," Roach said, "and similar study groups have been set up in various parts of the country. The establishment of the Rocky Mountain research activity gives assurance that this area will not lag behind in the commercial utilization of atomic energy."

Bothne Chosen State Leader for U.S. Bonds Sales

O. J. Bothne, Twin Falls, will take the oath of office as state director of U. S. savings bond sales Monday, replacing Harold W. Ellsworth.

At present, Bothne is manager of the Western Auto Supply store in Twin Falls. He came to Twin Falls June 15, 1940, as manager of Gamble's (now Western Auto Supply) and has lived here ever since. Bothne plans to move to Boise now, but his family will remain here for the present because of children attending school.

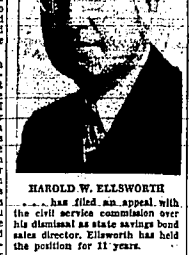

"I'm happy to have the opportunity to serve in the savings bond division of the treasury department," Bothne said. "It's really a worthwhile program."

Bothne worked for Detweiler's from April, 1943, to March, 1945, in the firm's insulation department. Then he was in the tractor division of the Self Manufacturing company for a year. Following a year in the appliance-and-surplus business for himself, Bothne served three years as manager of the Twin Falls Chamber of Commerce.

He managed the Sunrise Potato Chip company for six months and then worked for Ashworth Motor company before returning to Western Auto Supply as manager.

In 1950, Bothne was a candidate for the republican nomination as second district representative. In 1948, he was Idaho representative on the "Christmas ship" contribution of food and supplies to Europe.

Report Says Taylor Knew Reds Behind Progressive Party

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20 (AP)—The senate internal security subcommittee made public yesterday sworn testimony that Henry A. Wallace and Glen Taylor headed the Progressive party ticket in 1948 "with full knowledge" the party was under communist control. Wallace is a former Democratic vice president. Taylor is now seeking election as Democratic senator from Idaho. He had served a prior term as senator. The testimony naming them was taken at a closed-door hearing Oct. 7 from Matthew Cvetic, a former FBI undercover man, and John Lautner, a former communist now a consultant to the justice department.

Senator Jenner, R., Ind., is chairman of the senate internal security subcommittee. On the day when Cvetic and Lautner testified, Senator Welker, R., Ida., presided, being the only committeeman present.

The official transcript quoted Cvetic as testifying that Wallace was chosen as the Progressive party's presidential nominee and Taylor for vice president "because they were two men who were willing to work with the Communist party in this condition—Progressive party."

Lautner said their candidacies had the effect of "giving respectability to communist cause."

Lautner said he does not know whether either man was a communist and "does not believe they were."

"But of my own personal knowledge I do know," he added, "that they furthered with their participation in the Progressive party . . . the cause of the Communist party in this country."

Cvetic said he does not believe either Wallace or Taylor was a communist. But he testified that the Progressive party was created under communist auspices as a carefully planned step toward ultimate control of the government. He said the communists kept it under "absolute control," hand-picked its candidates, including Wallace and Taylor, and dictated the platform on which they ran.

Cvetic said that under orders from

Taylor Says Report Is Welker "Slander"

IDAHO FALLS, Oct. 20 (AP)—Saying that Senator Welker, R., Ida., conducted a "one-man hearing," Glen Taylor, Democratic candidate for U. S. senator, last night challenged Welker to subpoena him before the senate internal securities subcommittee. "I challenge Welker to subpoena me to his little Joe McCarthy hearings. I'm tired of being slandered. I wish Welker would put up or shut up. He hasn't the courage to subpoena me and I don't think he has the decency to subpoena me," Taylor said.

Commenting on the charge that communists had infiltrated the Progressive party, Taylor said:

"If there were any communists in the Progressive party, I never recognized them as such. I know it is disheartening for Welker but he hasn't a chance for me to commit suicide," Taylor said. He did not elaborate on this remark.

2 Candidates Urge Tighter Auto Control

Stricter traffic controls for Twin Falls county were advocated by two GOP county candidates here Thursday night at the regular weekly meeting of the county Republican central committee.

James H. Benham, candidate for sheriff, told approximately 40 committee members meeting at local GOP headquarters that "with four sheriff's cars on duty 24 hours each day, there is absolutely no reason why they can't be used for law enforcement on the highways of our county."

James M. Cunningham, Republican nominee for prosecuting attorney, also spoke on traffic safety control for Twin Falls county. He pledged "prosecution of traffic cases," and pointed out that the sheriff's department is responsible for traffic control "just as much as for other cases."

The next meeting of the committee will be held Oct. 28 at Republican headquarters, 161 Second avenue north.

Churches and Schools Offer Hope of Peace

HARTFORD, Conn., Oct. 20 (U.P.)—President Eisenhower said today that educational and religious institutions of the present day held the only hope for steering the nations of the world away from a murderously destructive war in which there could be no winner.

Dwelling on a theme he employed in Washington yesterday, the President told a Trinity college campus gathering of more than 7,000 persons that modern methods of war prevented no "possibility of victory or defeat—only a degree of destruction."

He said it was up to the educational and religious forces of the world to inculcate such understanding in their students and followers that the "scourge of war" is eliminated from society.

The President came to Trinity, a 131-year-old liberal arts college with a student body of 900, to receive an honorary doctor of laws degree as he started a two-day tour of two vitally important political areas—Connecticut, where Gov. John Lodge is running for reelection, and New York City.

The President was flanked almost every step of the way in Hartford by Lodge. At the convocation, however far back in the seats for distinguished visitors, was Abraham Ribicoff, first district Democratic congressman who is running against Lodge in the gubernatorial race.

Ribicoff was invited by college officials to the ceremony.

Blaze on Farm Destroys Hay, Straw Stacks

MILNER, Oct. 20—With no water for fighting fire, members of the Murtaugh rural fire department and neighbors could do little more than watch 1,200 bales of hay and straw burn at E. E. Brune's ranch at Milner Wednesday morning.

Efforts were bent to keep the fire from spreading to a potato cellar only six feet away.

The fire, cause of which has not been determined, was discovered by Mrs. Truman Phipps from the tenant house on the Brune ranch. The Murtaugh fire department was called but since the water had been turned out of the Milner Low-lift irrigation system, officials there said no water to fight the blaze. The rural fire department at Burley was unable to help because of a broken hose connection on the truck.

The fire is believed to have started around 9:15 a. m. close to a hay stack containing 600 bales. It spread from there to the straw stack also containing nine bales.

Firemen from Murtaugh succeeded in stopping over the stacks and spreading the fire out over a burned area. Using water from tanks loaned by Gordon Briggs, neighbor, and the irrigation company they poured some water onto the burning mass and also wet down the potato cellar.

Firemen feel they have saved the structure, since the wind changed direction but also believe the burning hay and straw probably will smoulder for several days.

Search Resumed For Lost Hunter

COEUR D'ALENE, Oct. 20 (AP)—Search was resumed Wednesday for William E. Honey, 66, Coeur d'Alene hunter missing since Monday in the Cocolalla district north of Athol.

A group which included 15 members of the Eagles lodge and Honey's wife, daughter and son-in-law covered a wide area Tuesday, but found no trace of him.

SCHOOLS CUT

JUAREZ, Mexico, Oct. 20 (AP)—More than 3,000 pupils were cut off school rolls Tuesday because of overcrowded conditions. Mayor Pedro Chavez told protesting parents "this school problem is acute."

FBI Roundup Bags 10 More Red Leaders

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20 (U.P.)—FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover today announced the arrest of 10 leaders of the Puerto Rican communist party in Puerto Rico and New York City.

Hoover said the roundup "will cripple the communist conspiracy in Puerto Rico since all those arrested have been important positions in the Puerto Rican Communist party."

Violate Smith Act

The FBI said the arrests were made on complaints charging the 10 with violating the Smith act by conspiring to teach and advocate the violent overthrow of the government.

Nine of the arrests were made in Puerto Rico and one in New York.

Hoover said among those arrested were fellow-trained Juan Santos-Rivera and Juan Emmanuelli, who served as liaison man between the Puerto Rican and United States communist parties. Emmanuelli, Hoover said, declared in a speech in New York in 1949 that the "traitorous American flag" should be torn out of Puerto Rico.

15th Roundup

The latest arrests, Hoover said, marked the 15th roundup of top-level reds since 1948. It was the second series of arrests outside the continental United States.

In a statement, Hoover said the Communist party of Puerto Rico was established in 1934 and "is subordinate to the Communist party in the United States.

"Like the fanatical Nationalist party of Puerto Rico, the Communist party of Puerto Rico has always agitated for the independence of the island commonwealth," he declared.

Supported Nationalists

On occasion, Hoover added, the communists have supported the nationalist cause "when it has served their purpose by embarrassing the U. S. government or to do so." He said Santos-Rivera has spoken at nationalist meetings and has "attacked the failing of nationalist leaders.

Hoover said the arrested communists, which brought to 128 the number that have been taken into custody on charges of violating the Smith act, would be arraigned before the nearest available United States commissioners as soon as possible.

Budge Claims Statements on Issues Untrue

AMERICAN FALLS, Oct. 20—"It is becoming increasingly difficult for me to conduct my campaign and at the same time reply to misstatement being made," Hamer Budge, candidate for U. S. representative, claimed Wednesday.

"In the last few days the statement was first made that I had failed to answer 72 out of 148 roll calls in the house. This statement turned out to be untrue, the fact being that I had answered 144 of 148 roll calls, and the statement was retracted," Budge said.

"Now the statement has been made that while in the state legislature I voted for a high dam at Hells canyon in going over the record of the Idaho legislature I find that on March 3, 1949 as floor leader of the house, I offered a motion to suspend the rules and pass S. C. R. 9. This motion passed the house by a vote of 59 to 0, which means that every member voted for it. S. J. R. 9 does not even mention a high dam at Hells canyon. It simply a resolution asking the corps of army engineers and the bureau of reclamation to present to the congress a unified, integrated and well-coordinated plan for the development of the Columbia river basin. Such a plan was at that time being urged by the water users of Idaho, who were fearful the Columbia valley authority then being promoted in Washington, D. C.

"I still favor and am working for a 50-year identification and well-coordinated plan of development. I still oppose a Columbia valley authority or any other scheme which will make Idaho's water subject to any law other than that of the state of Idaho.

"It should be noted that the same people who advocated the Columbia valley authority are now advocating the high dam, and those who opposed the Columbia valley authority are just as opposed to the high dam. The basic issue is the same in both proposals."

Power Line's Loan Granted

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20 (Special)—The first identification gambling transaction has approved a $220,000 loan to the Raft River Rural Electric cooperative in Malta to bring power to 60 new customers.

The loan brings the cooperative total $1,197,500, which was used to build a 417-mile distributions system with 707 customers.

The new funds will permit the building of 43 miles of new line. The new customers are located in Cassia county, Idaho, and Box Elder county, Utah, and include 32 who will require heavy loads for irrigation.

The cooperative has been authorized to use the funds if already has spent on approved construction. President of the cooperative is Edwin H. Paskett and its manager is Philip Shane.

Report Given on Fining Speeders

Rupert Police Judge George Redford reported Tuesday he had fined Lee Cannon, Rupert, $10 and costs on Oct. 6 for driving 50 miles an hour in a 35-mile zone. He also reported he had fined W. O. Hunter, Rupert, a similar amount for driving 45 miles an hour in a 20-mile zone on Oct. 11.

Running through a stop sign on Oct. 15 cost J. H. Williams, Rupert, $10 and costs on Oct. 15, judge Redford said. On Oct. 14 the judge said he fined Elmer D. Hamilton, Paul, $10 and costs on a charge of driving 55 miles an hour in a 35-mile zone.

Monoxide Gas ... in ... House

DETROIT, Oct. 20 (U.P.)—Deadly carbon monoxide gas seeping from a faulty furnace killed eight tenants of a rooming house for elderly men on the edge of Detroit's downtown district Tuesday night.

Nine other roomers were taken to a hospital for emergency treatment. Their condition was said to be "temporarily serious."

Identification Difficult

One of the victims was Muroe Emine, 75, Detroit. Hospital attendants said most of the dead were clad only in night clothes, making positive identification difficult.

Police said 24 persons occupied the three-story rooming house. Quick action by Joseph Piljackowski, 58, owner of the building, was credited with saving additional lives.

Discovers Gas

Piljackowski told police he discovered the gas fumes shortly before midnight when he returned from a church service. He found one of the victims lying in a bathroom on the third floor. Then he started banging on doors to arouse sleeping roomers.

Two Detroit fire department arson squads answered an alarm turned in by residents of another home. In addition, police scout cars and ambulances converged on the scene.

Conduct Search

Firemen conducted a room-by-room search. They administered oxygen to victims. Several who had been overcome. Most of the building occupants were asleep when the gas was discovered.

Firemen said the fumes spread from a gas furnace which heated the building. Recent rains apparently loosened mortar in the brick chimney on the structure, causing particles to fall over a flue. The gas, unable to go out the blocked chimney, entered the house through a furnace vent.

Air Clogged by Dust As Gales Whip Area

Gales up to 50 miles per hour whipped through Magic Valley Tuesday afternoon causing dust storms so heavy law enforcement vehicles were summoned to guide motorists and bringing scattered power failures caused by wind-felled trees. At least two minor automobile accidents were blamed on the blinding dust storm in the Jerome area. The U. S. department of agriculture offices at Twin Falls placed the wind velocity at "48 miles per hour average high, with gusts exceeding that." The civil aeronautics administration at Gooding listed the wind at between 45 and 50 miles per hour.

Power service northwest of Buhl was disrupted for about one and one-half hours when falling timbers and trees severed Idaho Power company wires. Olin Smith, company manager at Buhl, reported. Trees were reported down in the Hepp Creek and Clear lakes areas.

Howard L. Andrews, Buhl manager of the Mountain States Telephone and Telegraph company, said service in some parts of the Buhl area also was disrupted by trees blown across telephone lines. The wind plucked one telephone pole two miles east of Buhl "completely out of the ground," Andrews reported.

In Twin Falls, Idaho Power company officials said no serious damage was caused, although a few branches were deprived of power by falling limbs. The firm's office at Gooding reported a 30-minute power shutoff east of the city.

The Jerome-Hazelton area began about 3:30 p.m. Recently plowed fields in the vicinity of the Jerome airport blanketed the field to zero visibility, county residents reported. The dust was so heavy "a home at the intersection of highway 93 and 93 could hardly be seen more than a few feet away."

The accidents occurred near the intersection of highways 25 and 93 when dust obscured motorists' vision.

Highway 93 Is ... Scheduled for ... Improvements

BOISE, Oct. 20 (AP)—Another 51 miles of U. S. 93, north of Galena summit, will be surfaced next year.

Thirty miles will be surfaced from Stanley north and 21 miles of road will be widened and surfaced from the foot of Galena summit to a point seven miles south of Stanley.

But no major work will be begun on forest highways running between Gooding and Ketchum or Sun Valley and Knox in central Idaho or between Fairfield and Mountain Home.

Those decisions were reached Tuesday in a hearing held by the U. S. bureau of public roads, the forest service and the state highway board to determine how Idaho will spend its $1,500,000 share of a national appropriation for forest highway work.

Officials approved nine projects for the 1955-56 fiscal year which include:

Surfacing of 30 miles of U. S. 93 from Stanley north and construction of two 80-foot bridges on U. S. 93 between North Fork and the Montana line.

Construction of a bridge on U. S. 10 over Wolf Lodge creek in northern Idaho.

Grading of four miles of the eastern end of the Lewis and Clark highway.

Widening and surfacing of 21 miles of U. S. 93 from the foot of Galena hill a point seven miles south of Stanley.

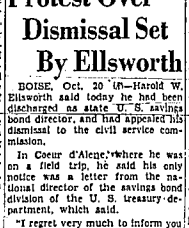

Surfacing and correcting of slides on 8.7 miles of the Priest River road on state route 57.

Pavement for two miles of state route 31 between Victor and Erwin, and widening of 4.7 miles of that section.

Grading and surfacing of 2.5 miles of state route 15 along the North fork of the Payette river.

Grading of 5.4 miles of the Enaville-Murray road.

Protest Over Dismissal Set By Ellsworth

HAROLD W. ELLSWORTH

. . . has filed an appeal with the civil service commission over his dismissal as state savings bond sales director. Ellsworth has held the position for 11 years.

BOISE, Oct. 20 (AP)—Harold W. Ellsworth said today he had been discharged as state U. S. savings bond director, and had appealed his dismissal to the civil service commission.

In Coeur d'Alene, where he was on a field trip, he said his only notice was a letter from the national director of the savings bond division of the U. S. treasury department, which said.

"I regret very much to inform you that your services as state director of the Idaho organization will not be required after Oct. 31, 1954."

Ellsworth said the department gave no reason for the discharge and he had appealed to the civil service commission since he has a permanent civil service status.

First indication that Ellsworth had been discharged came in his monthly report on savings bond sales.

Ellsworth has held the job 11 years.

Another Candidate To Attend Parley

JEROME, Oct. 20—Frank Benson, Democratic candidate for governor, also will appear at the nonpartisan political rally at 8 p.m. Thursday at the Jerome high school auditorium, Tom Prescott, chairman of the rally, reported Wednesday.

The rally is being sponsored by the Jerome Jaycees to acquaint Jerome county voters with election issues and candidates, Prescott said.

George A. Greenfield, state Democratic chairman, has informed Prescott he will try to attend the rally and that Glen Taylor, Democratic candidate for U. S. senator, or Clark Hamilton, Democratic candidate for governor, will attend if their speaking schedules will permit.

SEARCH FAILS

TOKYO, Oct. 20 (AP)—Search vessels including the U. S. navy cruiser Toledo returned Wednesday after a fruitless hunt for a Japanese fishing boat with 25 men aboard which had reported itself foundering in heavy seas 100 miles south of here.

Nixon Claims Election Issue Is Trumanism vs. Effective GOP

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 20 (AP)—Vice President Richard M. Nixon said last night that the big issue of the 1954 congressional election is the same as it was two years ago—"Trumanism" versus "the sane and effective policies" of the Eisenhower administration.

Nixon, taking former President Harry S. Truman and ex-Secretary of State Dean Acheson to task in a speech before 3,000 Republicans at a $100 a plate dinner, said Mr. Truman and Adlai Stevenson have resorted to tactics of distortion, cover-up and innuendo" in an "11th hour attempt to defeat the Eisenhower program."

The vice President repeated a recent statement that "thousands" of communists and security risks were fired from government jobs by the Republicans and said that never would have happened if the Democrats had remained in power.

Nixon told a cheering audience, including Pennsylvania Gov. John S. Fine and DNC Gov. Lloyd Wood, the Republican gubernatorial candidate, that "Truman Democrats" should never again be returned to power.

"I say tonight that the Truman administration has by its record in the administration, has by and statements of its apologists during this campaign, disqualified itself and its advocates from ever again being entrusted with the task of protecting America's security from the termites who are constantly gnawing at us from within," the vice president said.

"The Eisenhower administration," he said, "has proved by its record that we recognize the danger that we will not tolerate disloyalty or lack of security under any circumstances and that we know how to deal with the problem sanely and effectively."

"Today," he said, "the issue is—shall we go forward with Eisenhower, or back to Truman?"

Navy Announces New High Target

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20 (AP)—The navy announced today that it has developed the first high altitude target for parachute missiles.

An inexpensive, rocket-boosted parachute, the new target can be placed at altitudes of about 60,000 feet, officials said, thus giving the antiaircraft which World war II aircraft are now flown by remote control as target drones.

The parachute, called "Poco," is carried aloft in the nose of a 13½ foot rocket. Once the rocket is fired from a portable launcher, the parachute is ejected by a strong spring.

T. F. Company Is Low Road Bidder

BOISE, Oct. 20 (AP)—Aslett Construction company, Twin Falls, submitted the apparent low bid of $296,123 for constructing and surfacing 8.6 miles of state highway 34-30 Caribou county, the state highway department announced Wednesday.

Other low bidders for other jobs included:

Holmes Construction company, Heyburn, $92,200—for constructing and surfacing two miles of U. S. highway 30 south on the Springdale curves section in Cassia county.

Jack Olson, Rigby, $74,674 for constructing and surfacing 4.4 miles of the Lewisville-East road in Jefferson county.

Stephens, 68, of the U. S. circuit court in the District of Columbia.

Others mentioned include Secretary of State Dulles, 66, and Attorney General Brownell, 50.

Stephens is a native of Salt Lake City.

Wind Lashes Magic Valley; Visibility Cut

The first was recorded by State Patrolman Eugene Hagler about 4 p.m. when a 1951 Willys pickup truck driven south on highway 93 by William Baril, Cascade, Idaho, left area of poor visibility. The vehicle was rammed in the rear by a southbound 1954 Nash station wagon operated by Pearl Shealey, Twin Falls. There were no injuries. Damage to the Chestnut vehicle was estimated at $100 and at $10 to the truck.

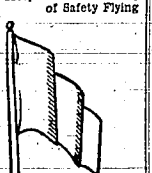

While Hagler was investigating the mishap, he was summoned to another collision that brought minor injuries to two small children. The accident happened when a 1949 Ford sedan driven north on highway 93 by Mrs. A. L. Barton, Twin Falls, struck the rear of a northbound 1953 Pontiac driven by John Bruer, Gooding, a few miles north. Two daughters of Mrs. Barton, Bonnie and Cherrie Barton, were given first aid treatment for minor injuries.

State police officers at Burley were guiding motorists across dust-driven stretches of highway 30 west of the Cassia county seat. Sheriff James B. Burns of Jerome county escorted motorists in the Jerome area.

Air traffic at Joslin field, Twin Falls, apparently was not hampered by the dust and wind, reports Donald Duvall, airport manager. He said "two or three planes" landed during the storm.

Rain followed the wind at Gooding. In Hailey, where the wind was described as "high" during the afternoon, it became a mere about 6 p.m. and a light rain fell.

Rubinoff Gets Good Turnout For Concerts

A near-capacity audience acclaimed Rubinoff and his violin during a concert Tuesday evening at the junior high school auditorium.

Rubinoff presented 10 a. m. and 2:45 p. m. performances in addition to the evening concert for junior high school, high school and parochial students.

Total attendance for the three performances was 1,419. Six hundred and thirty-six junior high school and 407 high school students attended the morning and afternoon concerts. The evening performance drew 376 persons.

Rubinoff's mastery of the violin and the lustrous tones of the Stradivarius instrument brought prolonged ovations from his audience throughout the evening.

The famed violinist mixed popular selections with the classics. Proving especially popular with the audience was his playing of "Don't Fence Me In" in 11 characteristic styles including the blues, waltz, rumba, boogie woogie, etc.

"Souvenir," one of the most popular of all violin solos, proved another favorite as did "Dancing in Blue," "When Day Is Done" and the "Warsaw Concert."

Both Rubinoff and Homer Phillips, his accompanist, received warm bursts of applause following each of their numbers.

Following his concert program, Rubinoff commended Ernest Ragland, Arthur Klinkopf, Vern O'Leary, John Finjt, sisters of St. Edward's school; the Times-News, KLIX and local Rotary members for assistance in making the concert a success.

Rubinoff is an honorary member of the Twin Falls Rotary club, an honor accorded him at his last appearance here about three years ago.

Robert F. Snyder, Rotary club president, and Robert Warberg, concert chairman, expressed complete satisfaction Wednesday morning with the concerts and thanked those who cooperated in making the concert program such a success.

Proceeds from the concerts will enable Rotary members to fulfill a pledge of $250 to the Harrison street playground project, Snyder reports.

Rubinoff was the guest of Warren Barry and Snyder during his stay in Twin Falls. Thursday in addition to his concerts, the violinist was the guest of honor at a meeting of the Exchange club Tuesday noon at the Legion hall.

None Hurt When Two Cars Crash

No one was injured but two automobiles were damaged when they collided on highway 30 one-half mile west of Buhl Tuesday evening, according to Deputy Sheriff Wayne Ward.

Freda K. Wonenberg, 44, Buhl, signalled to turn left in her 1951 Plymouth sedan when her auto was hit by a 1953 Ford driven by Bobby D. Johnson, 23, Buhl. Johnson said he did not see Mrs. Womenberg signal.

Damage to the Plymouth was estimated at $75 while the Johnson car was damaged to the extent of $300. Neither vehicle had a Traffic Safety Volunteer sticker, Ward said.

All This Doesn't Include Big Fish Which Got Away

HAILEY, Oct. 20 — Fishing at Magic Reservoir is reported as having been excellent for the last two weeks. Mr. and Mrs. Haulace Mackey, who fish there frequently, report the past two weeks fishing has been the best of the year.

Last Saturday Mrs. Mackey landed an eight and one-half pound trout and another weighing four and one-half pounds. Her husband caught a five-pounder. They were fishing with a plain hook and night crawler near Magic City. The large fish was hooked about 50 feet from the bank. Mr. and Mrs. Mackey rarely troll.

It took Mrs. Mackey 15 minutes to land her large fish. It did not come to the surface at any time, they stated. The four and one-half pounder broke water several times and also gave her a hard fight before she had it on shore.

Mrs. Mackey said two years ago she caught a nine and one-fourth pounder and three years ago Mackey landed a 11¼-pounder.

A trout weighing 21 pounds was reported as having been caught several days ago below the diversion dam after the water had been turned out of the Big Wood canal. Fishermen at Magic City last Sunday reported several hundred people fishing on the backwaters.

P. S. Stillings, 83, Claimed by Death

Pate S. Stillings, 83, retired carpenter, died Wednesday morning at the Horton rest home after an illness of five months.

Mr. Stillings was born Sept. 5, 1871, in Metz, Ia., and came to Twin Falls from Reno, Nev., in 1935. He was a carpenter and former member of the IOOF lodge.

Survivors include six sons, Ernest Stillings and Everett Stillings, both Minneapolis, Minn.; John Stillings and Dale Stillings, both Portland, Ore., and Edward Stillings, Emmett Stillings and Albert Stillings, all Bell, Calif.; five daughters, Mrs. Rae Rigler, Twin Falls; Mrs. Helen Davidson, Lander, Wyo.; Mrs. Dorothy Young, Pinedale, Wyo.; Mrs. Mary Beaubien, Newport Beach, Calif., and Mrs. Eva Graham, California; one brother, John Stillings, Tracy, Minn.; 22 grandchildren including Mrs. Bernard Funke, Twin Falls, and seven great-grandchildren.

Funeral services are pending at Reynolds funeral home.

Twin Falls sheet metal and roofing contractors and union representatives met here Tuesday evening to open negotiations for a new working agreement.

The Sheet Metal Workers International association union is seeking a 10-cent an hour pay raise and fringe benefits, including paid vacations. The present union agreement expires in November, 1954.

Taking part in the meeting held at the office of Detweiler Brothers, Inc., were William Holt and Blair Thompson, union representatives; Carl Kobel, Detweiler sheet metal department manager; John Rogers of the Rogers Sheet Metal company; William Heard, Heard Roofing company, and George Wirsching of the Magic Valley City Roofing company, all Twin Falls.

Truman Refuses Speech Comment

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Oct. 20 (AP)—Former President Truman said today he had "no comment" on the 10-cent attack made on his administration last night in Philadelphia by Vice President Richard M. Nixon.

Mr. Truman made his only speech of the 1954 congressional campaign last Saturday night here.

He said he would introduce veteran Texas Congressman Sam Rayburn tomorrow night at a Democratic rally in Independence, Mo., home of the former President. Mr. Truman will not speak at the rally, but leave that assignment to Rayburn.

Rayburn plans to drive to St. Joseph, Mo., early Friday morning.

Leaders Meet

HAILEY, Oct. 20—Cub Scout leaders of Pack No. 1 met Monday evening at the Presbyterian Community church to make plans to contact parents of prospective Cubs for the coming year. Final plans were made for a pack meeting Thursday evening at the church.

"Adventures in History" was chosen as the November theme. Cleanup dens for Thursday evening's meeting will be No. 1 and No. 2. Mrs. Ed Morrison will be in charge of the Cub meeting while parents and leaders hold their business meeting.

Report Says Reds Formed Progressives

the FBI he was posing as a red and had worked his way into the higher councils of communism when the Progressive party was established. He said he recalls vividly attending communist meetings that led to the selection of Wallace and Taylor to head the ticket. He said he met with both men during the campaign, and they believed him to be communist.

Quotes Wallace, Taylor

"I recall Henry Wallace making this statement, 'that we want the support of the communists and anybody that is for us,'" Cvetic testified.

"I heard Senator Taylor say in his campaign that he wants the support of the Communist party or anyone who is for them," Cvetic said.

"Did Henry Wallace and Glen Taylor know of the Communist Party infiltration of the Progressive party and of the fact that they were in company of communists?" the transcript quoted William Arens, subcommittee counsel, as asking.

Must Have Known

"Yes," Cvetic answered. He said anyone running under the Progressive party banner must have known that.

"The national party of the Communist party participated in the Progressive party with the full knowledge of anybody who participated in it," he said.

Arens: "Did Henry Wallace and Mr. Taylor in these conferences actually solicit the support of the Communist party?"

Cvetic: "Very much so."

Arens: "Did Henry Wallace and Glen Taylor assert in these private conferences that they would work with the Communist party?"

Cvetic: "Yes, sir."

Fine Assessed

BURLEY, Oct. 20—Julian Clauson, Rupert, was fined $18 and costs Monday by Probate Judge H. W. Tucker for having his truck overloaded.

Clauson was arrested a mile west of Sirevell Saturday after state police found that his truck was loaded 1,800 pounds over the 18,000 pound single axle weight limit.

THE McCARTHY CENSURE

Only a few times in its history has the United States senate formally censured any of its members, but it now seems quite likely that Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy's name will be added to the list in the debate which begins Nov. 8.

A considerable number of Republican senators—perhaps 15—have indicated they will probably join an overwhelming majority of the senate Democrats in voting to accept the censure findings recently handed down by the special Watkins committee. No doubt will McCarthy's loyal followers in the senate will resist this decision stoutly. And the senator himself has given every sign of making further combat on the floor.

But it is doubtful if these developments can have more than a delaying effect on the move for censure. The main reason would seem to be that the Watkins committee conducted the censure hearings with such eminent fairness and respect for the facts that the findings are not really vulnerable to attack.

The six members—Republicans Watkins of Utah, Case of South Dakota, Carlson of Kansas, and Democrats Johnson of Colorado, Stennis of Mississippi and Ervin of North Carolina are generally quiet, calm men held in high regard by their colleagues. They gave judicial detachment to these proceedings. They cannot be assailed for yielding to any violent anti-McCarthy passions.

If such an assault should now be tried by McCarthy and his chief backers, it would not merely be liable to fall but would almost surely enhance the prospects of censure. For the senate has confidence in this committee's judgment.

That judgment was carefully employed in this case. While the group found McCarthy's behavior in respect to the solicitation of confidential government documents highly improper, it recognized that the case for censure here could easily be clouded by the confusions that surround the argument how best to fight communism.

It felt itself on firmer ground, however, in censuring the senator for the evident abuse of a World war II hero, General Zwicker. Members could not see that even if Zwicker were what McCarthy charged—an uncooperative witness who provoked him—that this justified intemperate abuse of a man who already had proved his soldierliness and patriotism in the heat of battle.

The committee decided, though, that the real heart of the case against McCarthy is concerned with his personal financial operations. These had been investigated with considerable energy and care by a previous senate committee, which raised some very puzzling questions. McCarthy dealt with this prior inquiry by defying it in a manner the Watkins group believes was contemptous.

He insulted the earlier committee, impunged its motives, and declined to discuss the subject under review—his finances. Then and many times since, the senator has sought to dismiss that investigation and any like it as a great "smear" perpetrated by communists and others who didn't like his own purported efforts to dig subversives out of government. But that kind of talk is never an answer to such charges.

As a man in public office, a man who heads an appropriations subcommittee that decides how much money certain government agencies may have, McCarthy has a responsibility to demonstrate that he is financially trustworthy.

The only way to do that is to tell your colleagues, when you are challenged, how and what you have spent. These matters are not irrelevant, as some McCarthy defenders contend. They go to the core of a public officeholder's integrity and his right to have the people's confidence. The Watkins group has put its finger on this crucial issue.

McCarthy will not now help his cause if he tries to chop the finger off.

WHO'S STUDYING WHOM?

The U. S. army, it seems, has found itself much overstocked on an item it calls a "staff study."

To quote a recent news dispatch, the army "makes so many staff studies it cannot keep track of them all. Sometimes two or more staffs are making the same study at the same time. When the studies are completed, they are filed. Eventually, another staff starts another study of the same situation or problem."

The surplus was brought to light in—yup, you guessed it—a staff study!

This would be very hilarious, except for one little point: It is costing the folks who pay taxes some $5,000,000 a year.

This is how much could be saved, it is said, by installing a new central filing system. Studies already made would be filed very neatly together to avoid any duplication.

We trust that the army will do so. And the people they pick to do it, we hope, will not be another staff study group.

A critic says that American poets have one fault in common. We know — writing poems.

TUCKER'S NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

WASHINGTON — The most active and the most harassed political experts at Washington today are the Republican and Democratic staffs charged with mobilizing the so-called "racial elements" on behalf of their respective parties.

While their sensitive activities are usually cloaked in semi-secrecy, the fear of antagonizing others and more numerical voting groups, their success or failure may determine the outcome of next month's election.

Privately, the heads of these racial bureaus admit that their main concern is the Jewish and also the colored voters, who generally aligned themselves with the Democratic party during the Roosevelt-Truman regime.

Ray Tucker

Their allegiance to the new deal-ers and fair-dealers during this period accounts for the huge majorities which the Democrats rolled up in the metropolitan centers and electorally important states.

AIMS OF BOTH PARTIES—The Democrats' objective is to hold this powerful voting strength, or to regain it from the GOP which supported President Eisenhower in 1952. The Republicans' aim is to convince them that their best interests will be served by the election of a GOP congress.

A candid analysis of present-day prospects indicates that the Jewish vote as well as the Negro vote will return to the Democratic party because of its disappointment with the Republican record.

Eisenhower campaigners are beckoning to the Negroes on the basis of the supreme court's unanimous decision against school segregation. Although that tribunal is not supposed to be dragged into partisan politics, the Republicans' political literature and speakers emphasize the fact that Chief Justice Earl Warren, an Eisenhower appointee, read the ruling.

BACK OF A SIGNATURE—Democratic publicity directed toward the colored electorate dismisses the fact that the California Republican affixed his name to the finding. Indeed, there are suggestions that there were political considerations behind the mere fact of signature.

They point out that it was the Roosevelts, especially Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, who inspired the equality movement many years ago. They note that the court action was initiated and argued by Democratic attorney generals, including some who did not agree with the ruling. They cite the efforts of Democratic officials in the South to prevent effective implementation of what the colored people regard as their Magna Charta.

In this controversy, where emotion and sentiment and political loyalties carry greater weight than supreme court signatures, the Democrats appear to be winning out.

ISRAELI SPOKESMEN'S PLAINT—On the Jewish question, the Eisenhower administration has been condemned severely by Israeli spokesmen and official sources for its alleged favoritism toward the Arabian states, which are still engaged in unsettled war with the new republic in Palestine.

Reversing the Truman policy, so the Israelites maintain, Eisenhower and Dulles, in agreement with Britain, are arming and financing Israel's bitter enemies in their efforts to unify the region against Russian invasion or infiltration.

They have driven the new state into a helpless position of isolation, exclusion and insecurity. Tel Aviv's official protests, it is understood, have been rejected by Washington and London.

IMPORTANT DEMOCRATIC ISSUE—Israeli diplomats have behaved impeccably in handling this problem—by refusing to get involved in American domestic politics. But it has been discussed along the lines outlined here in the Jewish press. It has been used in a whispering way by political candidates whose candidacy it promotes. It could be an extremely profitable issue.

If it is true that increasing unemployment and depressed farm prices hurt the administration in the cities and farm areas, any serious fall-off in the vote of these racial groups would spell the difference of a Democratic congress, by 30 votes in the house and from two to five in the senate.

VIEWS OF OTHERS

WITHOUT POLITICS, PLEASE

The department of justice has ordered federal grand juries throughout the country to investigate alleged "wiretap" profits in the government's housing program and, where evidence warrants, to bring indictments.

This is what should be done. In fact, this is what has been going on. The justice department in a prior announcement has pointed to 138 indictments, 67 convictions, and a test suit leading to possible recovery of illegal profits. And the chips should be allowed to fall where they will.

A good many of those chips are bound to fall on the Truman administration. For the notorious section 608 of the housing law was not repealed until 1950. And the party in power must be held responsible for governmental errors of commission and omission under its regime.

But Attorney General Herbert Brownell, jr., would have been better advised in announcing the new drive to have streamlined more the nation's chief law enforcement officer and less the politician on the eve of a campaign. When in the same breath he orders nonpolitical grand juries to work and refers to the "huge federal agency" which became "riddled with corruption under the prior administration," he runs some grave risks.

For one thing, the scandals have shaken the nation's confidence, not only in government, but also in the integrity of an industry. Words that suggest a political direction to the wheels of justice might undermine confidence in their impartiality.

For another thing, it invites political counterattack. And the Republican administration is not invulnerable on this score. The late Sen. Burnet R. Maybank gave sharp warning of this scarce two months ago with respect to military housing. The so-called "white shoe boys" were still signing up owners on Title I home improvements a year and a half after the Republicans took over. And congressmen of both parties had a part in writing the 608 door indeed long after they had been warned that sharpers were walking in and walking out with all in sight.

But this doesn't mean that the sharpers shouldn't get the full consequence. And despite the political overtones we're glad to see more grand juries move in—Christian Science Monitor.

GREATER OBLIGATION

The workings of the human mind have ever been a puzzle to the scientists. There is no explanation for many of the actions of mankind even though there is the background in certain instances.

The sorry situation in Utah, where the Republican candidate for congress has admitted a hoax in which he has identified himself as a war hero in a example. The fact that the man has admitted his imprudent identity does not remove the stigma. A man with the intelligence to influence the voters to send him to congress should have the characteristic honesty to be no one but himself.

Utah Democrats have been noble politicians all through this expose but we hardly agree with them. The Republican candidate has disgraced himself and the party. No matter the eventual political cost, the obligation facing the Republicans is greater than that of those who have forced the individual to admit his hoax. The individual has known about it for years and only until he was forced out in the open did he come clean. The Republican party must act immediately to rid itself of all types of impostors. Only by delay can the party come in for criticism in this case.—Boise Statesman.

IS NOTHING SACRED?

Says a household cooking hint: "To give Welsh rabbit added zip, sprinkle chili powder over the bubbling golden mixture just before serving. Looks pretty and tastes, oh, so good."

We don't doubt that the bubbling golden mixture will look pretty and that it will taste delicious—good.

But is nothing sacred? Can't the household hinters leave anything alone? Next we fear, some one may suggest pouring a golden, bubbling Welsh rabbit over a Mexican tamale. Or even garnishing a half cantaloupe with paprika.—Salt Lake Tribune.

POT SHOTS

THEY GOT FRONT DOORS!
Dear Pot Shots:

You seem to help so many people with their problems I wonder if you or your readers could help solve the farm wife's pet peeve. Why does any company that ever comes always go to the back door?"

We read magazines, too, and our front rooms look almost as pretty like the pictures as the city homes do but our kitchens and back porches! That's a different story!

The kids come in from feedin' their calves and chickens or playing on the straw stack. They oil their guns, make their arrows and feed their friends in the kitchen. I've comes in from the barn and used the sink to wash the milking machine or mix the blast medicine. The milking coveralls and overshoes hang on the back porch.

The odor that goes with them smells like gold dust to us, but not to everyone else.

But about the time that everything is at its worst, here comes company! And do they show you their front door? Not Right through the mess they come and plunk themselves down in the midst of it and never even see the part of your house that looks like the pictures.

Now, Pots, see if you can get me an answer, will you? All I want to know is "why?"

REPUBLICAN CENTRAL COMMITTEE

HOW THINGS APPEAR FROM PEGLER'S ANGLE

WASHINGTON — I present herewith an expose of a wanton smear of unsuspecting American citizens which was discovered in the murky catacombs of Washington and New York in 1947. This information has lain dormant ever since it was turned up by a subcommittee of the house committee on expenditures in executive departments.

Westbrook Pegler

Harry K. Mitchell, the president of the civil service commission, appeared as witness, accompanied by Frances Perkins, who had been the Roosevelt secretary of labor, and Arthur S. Flemming, commissioners.

Clare R. Hoffman, Michigan, as chairman of the subcommittee, dragged out the fact that the civil service commission spent more than $30,000 transcribing unofficial material from the files of the New York law firm of Mintzer and Levy, the so-called Friends of Democracy, the National Lawyers guild and other gumshoe organizations.

The subcommittee's report flatly stated that the file was "in many respects, merely an index of suspicion, rumor, prejudice and malice."

George S. Mintzer, the senior partner of the law firm referred to, was active in a covert patriotereying movement which attacked some reputations for no better reason than personal dislike or disagreement with social, political or religious convictions. Mintzer later realized that mistakes had been made and withdrew.

The subcommittee's report said that on Oct. 3, 1947, Hoffman learned that the civil service commission had "750,000 "investigators' leads" on index cards. These covered "alleged subversive and disloyal affiliations of private citizens." Hoffman heard that the file contained information about members of both houses of congress and other persons of national prominence who were not likely to apply for civil service jobs.

Therefore there was no excuse for the commission to amass "files" on private citizens, it could be argued that the commission was right in accepting unverified reports from private organizations about possible applicants.

"The Friends of Democracy is one of the worst of these private organizations. It was the home base of John Roy Carlson, the notorious faker and liar, who wrote the outrageous smear work called "Undercover," which sold enormously during the war. Judge John P. Barnes, in the course of libel suit against Carlson, nee Derounian, and his publishers, said Carlson was unworthy of belief on oath and would probably perjure himself for dollars.

"Undercover" was given a fantastic build-up by the New York Times and the Herald Tribune in the face of common knowledge that Carlson was an irresponsible adventurer in scandalous publicity. The book got a tremendous campaign of free publicity and was circulated to the extent of many thousands in the centers where servicemen were training or on active duty.

The subcommittee's report said: "The chairman was told that sometime in the civil service commission would, that day or very soon, make a sound recording of the information on the cards relating to members of the house and senate. It was evident that if such a recording was made and became available, as so many confidential communications do become available, to the radio and press, many reputations might be smeared or defamed."

Material transcribed from the private files of Mintzer and Levy was catalogued in the civil service files under "personal warning that the source was not to be disclosed under any circumstances. However, the civil service warning added that "further information concerning the above may be obtained by contacting the offices of Mintzer and Levy."

At one time, in 1943, a staff of 70 typists, 25 clerks and three investigators on the payroll of the civil service commission worked continuously for 60 days transcribing information in a number of offices in the city of New York to be incorporated in the confidential index of the commission in Washington.

The civil service commission, in November, 1947, got scared over its own audacity in listing members of the legislative branch as "subversives" on the word of private groups and reported that it had destroyed such cards.

Chairman Hoffman, on Oct. 8, 1947, asked President Truman for an executive order opening the file to the house committee. On Oct. 21, Truma refused on the ground that the files were maintained on a "confidential basis."

Mitchell, of the civil service commission, wrote the committee that there were recording date on 467,000 individuals were compiled in New York in June and July, 1943. Of these names 56 per cent were taken from communist party petitions. The New York office of the Dies committee furnished a further 11 per cent. The New Jersey state police gave material for 8,000 cards. The Friends of Democracy yielded about five per cent and "5,000 or 7,000 cards were based on information secured from a confidential source."

The subcommittee made a sharp distinction between information gathered from open political registrations, public petitions and from the records of congressional committees on the one hand and from private files, on the other.

"There is," the report said, "no evidence supporting the authenticity or reliability of much of this material came principally from sources publicly identified as sympathetic with the purposes and operations of international communism."

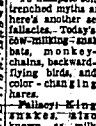

Both the record of the hearings and the report of the subcommittee are now extremely rare congressional documents.

Is That So!

How True Is Claim Snakes Milk Cows

To dissipate some of our more enriched myths and misconceptions, here's another serving of facts vs. fallacies. Today's helping includes cow-milking snakes, blood-sucking monkeys, chains, backward-flying birds, and color-changing hares.

Eugene Burns

Fallacy: Hair snakes. Also known as milk snakes, have been known to milk cows.

Fact: Many farmers blame a decrease in milk production upon snakes. It is true that the king snake, which likes to hang around barns and mice and rats, will take milk from a pan that has been put out to feed pets. But no biologist has yet seen one milking a cow.

Besides, snakes have sharp teeth and it is difficult to imagine a cow standing quietly by while its teats are being chewed up. Also, without bringing a milking stool, a snake would have a difficult time to reach the udder unless it wrapped its body around the cow's leg, and any self-respecting bossy, however placid, would certainly raise some objections to this!

Fallacy: To cross a rushing torrent, monkeys are supposed to make monkey-chains. The head monk firmly anchors himself on a stout branch, another grips his legs, a third . . . and so on, until a sufficiently long chain has been completed. Then the monkey-chain is made to swing like a pendulum with the end monkey finally grasping a tree branch on the opposite shore of the river.

The remainder of the band, for the most part aged females and helpless young, then trot gally across the living bridge of gallant monkeys. When all are safely across, the bridge or monkey chain is broken by the first monkey releasing his hold, after which they all swing across, and are gone.

Fact: Even if we would like to believe such a performance, it just ain't so. From a physical point of view, the first link of the monkey chain simply couldn't support that terrific load.

Fallacy: Vampire bats hover over their intended victims, lull them into an unsuspecting slumber by gently fanning them with their wings, and then suck out their blood.

Fact: Vampire bats, native to South America, Mexico and Central America, do nothing of the kind. They may flit back and forth over their victim a couple of times, they sweep down upon the animal's back, grab on to a choice spot in which to sink their incisors, and nonchalantly lap up the blood with

Nuclear Study Power Group Set for Idaho

Other companies participating in the Rocky Mountain Nuclear Power study group include Arizona Public Service company; Public Service company of Colorado; Utah Power and Light company; Ebasco Services, Inc.; The Fluor Corporation, Ltd.; Minnesota Mining and Manufacturing company; Phillips Petroleum company and Riley Stoker corporation.

Headquarters for group personnel will be established at Idaho Falls, and a project manager will be chosen to direct over-all activities of the study. Each participating company will provide a share of the required working funds for research and each will provide its share of necessary manpower to carry on the work. Overhead expense of group activities will be borne by the companies. Under the arrangement, provision has been made for the interchange of personnel information.

Rohch pointed out that the Phillips Petroleum company for four years has been associated with the government at the AEC's national reactor testing station near Arco, where it operates the materials testing reactor, a chemical processing plant, and a number of service installations. He said Phillips is especially interested in the effect nuclear fission will have upon the development of resources which may make available cheaper and more abundant radiation for promoting chemical reactions.

Minnesota Mining and Manufacturing company's participation—in this project is in keeping with its long established policy of exploring the newest fields of science. For the past three years it has been using and experimenting with radioactive materials and techniques to solve problems in the control and improvement of its products.

Riley Stoker corporation manufactures heat exchange equipment, notably large steam generators. Inasmuch as industrial atomic power will first come from substitution of reactor heat for heat from fossil fuels, the heat transfer mechanism will be an essential part of an integrated electric plant.

Pluton, a west coast engineering construction - manufacturing concern, built the materials testing reactor at the National Reactor Testing station.

Ebasco Services, Inc., an international firm of engineers, constructors and business consultants, has been closely associated with development of utility and industrial uses of atomic power.

"It has," Roach said, " a continuing interest in the design, construction and operation of nuclear-fueled power plants and in applications of fission products.

"The four utilities in the group serve the majority of the people in extensive areas of Arizona, Colorado, Idaho and Utah, as well as parts of Wyoming, Oregon and Nevada," Roach stated.

"Their objective," he declared, "is to keep abreast of all new developments in the art of power generation in order the consumers of electricity in the respective service areas may enjoy every advantage which may arise out of the utilization of nuclear energy."

Young Bandit Admits Theft Of Bank Fund

SCOTTSBLUFF, Nebr., Oct. 20 (UP) — A young "cowboy" bandit confessed to police today that he stole hardly touched the First State Bank of Scottsbluff of $58,152 because "it was the only way I could ever get rich."

The prisoner, tentatively identified as Joe Deri Gore, 19, Tulsa, Okla., was captured in Bayard, Nebr., last night. His suitcase was crammed with bundles of currency amounting to the exact amount taken from the bank yesterday.

He told state, federal and county officers he picked the Scottsbluff bank for the stickup "because it had the capital."

The bank bandit, wearing a mask and cowboy boots, held a sawed-off shotgun on six employes for half an hour waiting for the bank vault to open.

He then forced two bank officers to hand him the money, instructing them to "leave the ones until last."

The 1949 car in which the slim bandit made his escape was found in a Scottbluff garage which he had rented last week. In the car were the mask, boots and other clothes worn during the robbery. The loaded shotgun was found under the car seat.

Police speculated that Gore had spent most of yesterday in the garage, since he knew almost to the dollar the amount of money in the suitcase.

Gore had stayed at a hotel one block from the bank and also in a hotel next door to the bank. In the latter hotel officers found a getaway map in a magazine.

Payment of $482 Sought in Court

Mr. and Mrs. John Meyer, Murtaugh, were named defendants in a $482 civil suit filed in district court Wednesday by the Twin Falls Clinic.

The suit alleges that Mr. and Mrs. Meyer delivered a $407 promissory note to the clinic May 9, 1950, and nothing has been paid on it. It also seeks $81 for medical services rendered the couple from May 9, 1950, to Nov. 13, 1951.

The clinic, represented by Blandford and Blandford, also wants $100 in attorneys' fees and interest.

Trucker Fined

BURLEY, Oct. 20—C. V. Watson, Portland, Ore., was arrested and fined Sunday for failing to stop his truck at the Strevell port of entry.

Probate Judge H. W. Tucker levied the fine of $10 and costs following Watson's arrest by State Patrolman Adrain Smith.

UTAH SOLON TO SPEAK

IDAHO FALLS, Oct. 20 (UP)—Sen. Wallace F. Bennett, R., Utah, will deliver an address Friday in Idaho Falls, Bonneville county Republicans announced yesterday. Also present will be Sen. Henry Dworshak, R., Ida., who is seeking reelection.

Particular

OXNARD, Calif., Oct. 20 (UP)—Russell Ramirez, 22, arranged to have himself put in the state prison because "it's more attractive than county jail."

Ramirez, who had pleaded guilty to a narcotics addiction charge, was told by a judge he would have to go to county jail. He disclosed a cache of heroin in his home and was sent instead to the prison for illegal possession of drugs.

Papers Filed for Hovorka Estate

A petition for letters of administration of the estate of Frank O. Hovorka, who died here Oct. 14, was filed in Twin Falls probate court Wednesday by his widow, Mrs. Mary Julia Hovorka.

The estate includes real property valued at $9,000 and household furniture, a 1950 Buick and a savings account of $5,000. Hearing of the petition will be held at 10 a.m. Nov. 1.

In addition to Mrs. Hovorka, a son, Wilton S. Hovorka, San Jose, Calif., is the only heir listed in the petition. Leonard H. Jacob is attorney for the petitioner.

Drought Aid Set In Nevada, Utah

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20 (UP)—President Eisenhower yesterday declared parts of Utah and Nevada to be drought areas.

The Utah areas included in the President's order are western Box Elder county, Tooele county, western Juab county, northwest Millard county and Emery and Rich counties.

In Nevada the order covers Elko, Churchill, Clark, Esmeralda, Eureka, Humbolt, Lander, Nye, Pershing, Washoe and White Pine counties.

U.S. Moves to End Train Segregation

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20 (UP)—The Eisenhower administration came out yesterday for a complete stop of the practice of segregating white and Negro passengers traveling across state lines on trains.

Atty.-Gen. Brownell said in a brief filed with the interstate commerce commission that "the time has come . . . to declare unequivocally that a Negro passenger is free to travel the length and breadth of this country in the same manner as any other passenger."

Divorce Granted

Custody of two minor children was divided between plaintiff and defendant in a divorce granted Monday by District Judge R. E. Beckwith.

Mescal Wilson was granted a divorce from Rodney Wilson, whose cross-complaint was resulted in a decree of divorce. Mrs. Wilson was given custody of a minor son. Her husband was granted custody of the couple's minor daughter. Visitation rights were granted each parent. Wilson is to pay $25 monthly support for his son.

Mrs. Wilson was represented by Rayborn, Rayborn and Kramer. Wilson's attorney was J. W. Taylor.

Slight Damage Is Reported to Cars

RUPERT, Oct. 20—A two-car collision resulted in minor damage to both vehicles Monday afternoon.

Opal Uscola, 43, Rupert, told police that after stopping for a stop sign, she started across a county road two miles south of Rupert. She said she failed to see the oncoming car of T. C. Lish, 18, Hazelton, who couldn't stop in time to avoid a collision.

Estimated damage to the front of her 1948 Chevrolet was set at $35. Damage to Lish's 1947 Oldsmobile was estimated at $80.

Funeral Held for Gooding Resident

GOODING, Oct. 20 — Funeral services for Mrs. Marian A. Steele were conducted at 10:30 a. m. Tuesday at the Thompson chapel with the Rev. Martindale Wood officiating.

Mrs. Afton Johnson, Mrs. Mildred Daubner and Mrs. Ethel Heller directed the American Legion auxiliary service. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gee sang, accompanied by Mrs. Helen L. Smith.

Pallbearers were Vernon Baumgarner, Fred Locke, William Krahn, Harold Hobson, Clyde Hawks and Elton Osborn.

Concluding services were held at Elmwood cemetery.

District Winner

Music Group Begins Drive For Members

BURLEY, Oct. 20—The Mini-Cassia Community Concert association opened its ninth annual membership campaign with a kick-off dinner meeting Monday evening at the National hotel dining room.

The dinner was attended by 60 members, including members of the executive board and volunteer workers of the association.

Mrs. D. C. Hoggan, president, introduced Mayor J. L. Salmon, who read his official proclamation proclaiming the week beginning Oct. 18 and ending Oct. 23 as Community Concert week.

Mrs. Pearl A. Sommers, New York Concert representative, will be here all week to assist with the campaign. Community Concert headquarters are in the Sullikan music store, 132 West 13th street.

Mrs. Hoggan said that a concert series can only be presented when someone underwrites the expense, which often leaves a deficit, or by the association plan, whereby many citizens contribute their efforts in a cooperative enterprise which eliminates deficits and, at the same time, creates a larger audience and encourages new listeners.

Mrs. C. A. Terhune, co-membership chairman, asked residents to make the work of the volunteers as easy as possible by getting their memberships in early. She said it is to the advantage of every member to not only get in his membership promptly but to try to get another new member to join. Every dollar collected by the association goes into obtaining more concerts, she said.

Mrs. Terhune said the talent obtainable for the season is determined by the size of membership. If we are to be entertained by leading artists, we must build a large membership during the campaign," she said.

6 Permits to Haul Altered

BOISE, Oct. 20 (UP)—The Idaho public utilities commission yesterday revoked the motor carrier permits of six southern Idaho building firms and issued them licenses of more limited scope. It authorized:

The Messenger Trucking company of Idaho Falls to haul farm and building materials south of the Salmon river.

The Idaho Pacific Freight line, Twin Falls, to haul explosives and general commodities in southern Idaho.

T. E. Spargo, Burley, to carry farm produce south of the Salmon river.

V. A. Thompson, Gooding, to haul general commodities south of the Salmon—river and passengers and baggage throughout Idaho.

Clabern W. Cavern, Twin Falls, to carry construction machinery and equipment throughout Idaho.

And the Hawkes Transfer and Storage company, Pocatello, to carry household goods throughout Idaho and general commodities south of the Salmon.

American Family Feared With Reds

VIENNA, Austria, Oct. 20 (UP)—An American couple and their two children who vanished from the Soviet sector of Vienna had been directed to return to the United States "because of alleged communist activities," the U. S. embassy said today.

Robert Ward, his wife Jacqueline and their two small boys—Lawrence, 5, and Norman, 2—New York City, disappeared Monday evening from a Soviet sector hotel.

Viennese police broadcast a nationwide appeal today for help in finding them.

Official Austrian sources said the entire family, accompanied by "persons known to be Russian," headed out of Vienna by automobile into the Soviet zone that borders on Communist Czechoslovakia and Hungary.

Vehicles Damaged

RUPERT, Oct. 20—A collision one mile west of the Inayntil Saturday afternoon resulted in estimates of $50 damage to a 1950 Ford truck and $150 to a 1947 Buick.

Bobbie Staker, 97, Rupert, said he slowed to make a left turn with the truck onto a field adjoining highway 25. Maytha A. Ingstrom, 36, also driving east, was attempting to pass Staker when he started to turn.

Men Strictly Dependent Upon Women for New Suit Purchase

NEW YORK, Oct. 20 (AP)—About this time of year a man begins thinking about a new fall suit. As often as not he ends up by buying what his wife picks out.

Why do men take their wives along? Merchants will tell you that a large number of them do. And many of those who make a show of choosing for themselves take wearing apparel home on approval—and you know whose approval.

There are men, of course, who won't let their women within shooting range of a clothing store. A man, say, who is in his young manhood was badly bitten by a bunch of Christmas ties from female kin. Or, one who, way back before the honeymoon was entirely over, let his wife pick out a suit for him, and when he came out of the daze discovered he was walking around in something that once must have blanketed Man o' War. Such men go alone to the clothing store.

But most men, whether they know it or not, don't really choose their clothes themselves. There are several types.

Some discover by the trial and error method that it's the better part of valor to let the wife's taste win right from the start, rather than listen to comments on the clothing after the husband brings it home. These criticisms range from open laughter (rare, let's hope) to a polite murmur that it's an awfully cute suit but are you sure you're quite the type to wear it.

Other males are convinced their wives really do have better notions about what men should wear and rely gratefully on their women-folk's taste.

Actually, many a man hates to shop. He knows his tendency to buy whatever the clerk hands him—even when aware that the salesman may be palming off something he hasn't been able to unload before. The customer knows his wife won't let him go for that.

Most women love to shop. They are willing, even eager, to go from store to store, to have their husbands try on garment after garment, to parry words with salesmen when they're suspicious, and to insist on extra care in the alterations. Many husbands value this aid.

Women nourish — and without doubt—deserve their reputation as the better shopper, the one with the real nose for bargains, and the unerring eye for value. They don't let their men forget it.

In its first year, millions of motorists have proved the benefits of

Conoco Super Gasoline with TCP

Now let these five "full-year-users" tell you what they have discovered about

The Greatest Gasoline Development in 31 Years

Little more than a year ago, we introduced Conoco Super Gasoline with TCP. At that time, we promised owners of new cars and old that TCP would:

- Boost engine power as much as 15%.
- Give you extra gas mileage.
- Be just like an engine tune-up.
- Increase spark-plug life up to 150%.
- Let you enjoy all the extra performance of Conoco Super's higher-octane rating.

Now, one year later, here's what TCP customers are telling us about Conoco Super Gasoline with TCP, the greatest gasoline development in 31 years:

❶ "I use this '51 Plymouth, my wife uses our '49 DeSoto. The cars were on the draggy side until we put Conoco Super Gasoline with TCP in 'em. Now, the engines sound better, quieter. We're sold on Conoco Super with TCP for good."

Mr. Shirl R. Thomas, Grocer
280 South 10th West, Salt Lake City, Utah

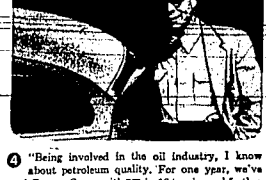

❷ "Spark plugs used to go at about 5,000 mile, but since using Conoco Super Gasoline with TCP I haven't changed plugs in 10,000 miles. I'm getting new car power, and my 1951 Buick is getting better than 40 miles more to the tankful."

Mr. Ulmer L. Newman, Insurance Salesman
2902 West Jefferson Blvd., Dallas, Texas

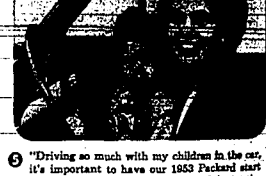

❸ "What I've liked about Conoco Super with TCP during the past year has been the ease of starting. I'm a builder and I use it in all my trucks because it's important to be on the job on time. I use it in my '52 Cadillac, and get better mileage, too."

Mr. Robert M. Rowland, Builder
1185 Emporia Street, Aurora, Colorado

❹ "Being involved in the oil industry, I know about petroleum quality. For one year, we've used Conoco Super with TCP in 12 trucks and 5 other cars, besides this '53 Oldsmobile. It boosts up engine power and gets more miles out of each gallon."

Mr. T. P. McAdams, Jr.
Vice-President, McAdams Oil Equipment Enterprises
308 East 4th Street, Bristow, Oklahoma

❺ "Driving so much with my children in the car, it's important to have our 1953 Packard start promptly and run smoothly. An engine dying at the stop light is a real nuisance. Since using Conoco Super with TCP, we're assured of top performance."

Mrs. James T. Cox, Housewife
4808 Holly Street, Dallas, Texas

Reds Fail in Try to Detain U. S. Senator

BERLIN, Oct. 20 (AP)—East German communists tried unsuccessfully today to detain U. S. Senator Margaret Chase Smith while she was on tour of East Berlin.

The communists held three members of Mrs. Smith's party for an hour.

A Columbia Broadcasting System correspondent hustled Mrs. Smith into an automobile when communists called the "Peoples Police" because they objected to the picture-taking.

Communist Tries

"One of the activists (communists) tried to hold back Mrs. Smith's automobile with his hand," Richard Hottelet, CBS' German correspondent said.

"They shouted at us: 'Stay here,' but we left," he said.

Communist police arrived after the Maine Republican had left with Hottelet. They held a driver and three members of the Smith party for an hour before releasing them.

Taken by Police

William C. Lewis, Mrs. Smith's administrative assistant; Robert Huttenloch, CBS sound technician from Washington, and Elmer Cox, U. S. high commission public information office chief in West Berlin, were taken to communist police headquarters by four uniformed police.

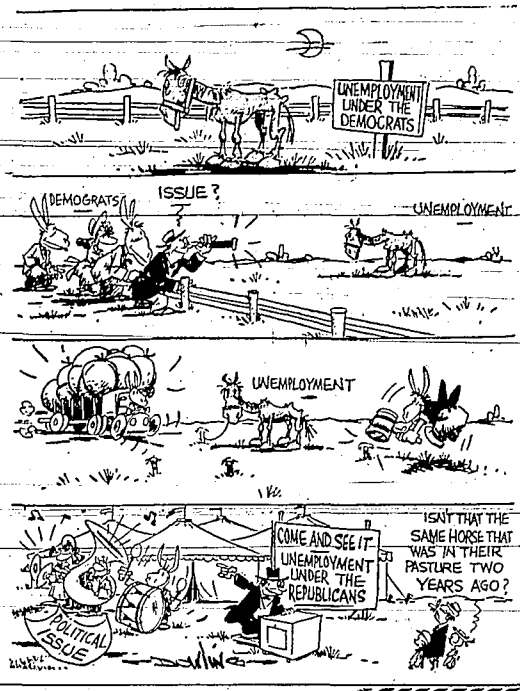

The incident took place when CBS cameramen were taking photographs of Mrs. Smith outside a government-operated department store on busy Alexanderplatz in East Berlin.

Hustled to Car

Mrs. Smith later told newsmen she hardly realized what was happening until Hottelet hurried her into a high commission automobile and said the communists objected to the taking of the photographs.

"I brushed aside a few communist busybodies who were wearing communist badges and bundled Mrs. Smith into the automobile," Hottelet said.

Confusion Seen for Dredging Proposal up for Nov. 2 Ballot

One initiative proposal appearing on the Nov. 2 ballot apparently is causing more confusion to prospective Twin Falls county voters than 38-odd candidates on the accompanying ballot, County Clerk Thomas W. Stivers says.

Stivers explains that the dredge mining initiative proposal was the only one of five proposals which received a sufficient number of signatures to be put on a ballot for the coming election.

The dredge mining initiative proposal will read as follows on the ballot:

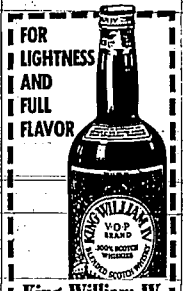

"An act; Declaring Idaho policy to dredge mining; defining dredge mining; requiring that dredge mining ground be smoothed over and water courses replaced for fish, wildlife and recreation; requiring construction of settling ponds; making the land board the administrative agency; providing applications, permits to dredge, and bonds to indemnify restoration of dredged lands and water courses; making mining dredging unlawful without permit; providing for termination of permits, forfeiture of bonds and hearings providing appeals, penalties, remedies; repealing Chapter 183, sessions laws of 1955 and conflicting laws, and providing the constitutional severability."

Voters will put their "X" after question asking "Shall the act described in above ballot title be approved?" or "Shall the act described in the above ballot title be rejected?"

Stivers said if the proposal is carried the dredge mining companies will be forced to construct settling ponds and smooth over water courses and protect fish, wildlife and recreation areas.

Cruelty Charged In Divorce Case

Charging cruel treatment, Evelyn Schaal Tuesday filed suit for divorce from Vern Schaal in district court here.

Mrs. Schaal asks restoration of her former name of Evelyn Cobb and requests custody of a child by a former marriage. She also seeks attorney's fees of $100. The couple was married Nov. 16, 1952, in Buhl.

In another divorce action filed Tuesday, Charles C. Ghan, a member of the U. S. navy, charges mental cruelty. His suit asks his wife, Irene Ghan, be granted custody of a minor daughter and that she be paid $30 monthly for support of the child. The couple was married at New Westminster, B. C., July 22, 1953.

Police Close Net On Hunted Killer

PHENIX CITY, Ala., Oct. 20 (AP)—The gunman whose bullets cut short the crime-fighting career of A. L. Patterson four months ago is still a hunted killer, but investigators may have the goods on him.

Despite the cautious secrecy of acting Atty.-Gen. Bernard Sykes, who is directing the murder inquiry, homicide detectives say privately they think they know the assassin's name.

"We feel sure we have a good, sound case against the man who did it," said one detective, "but there are a few loose ends to be tied up."

"There may be others involved, and we want to get them, too," he said.

Other sources close to the investigation corroborated this, but none of the officers would divulge any details.

Longshot

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 20 (AP)—The owners called it a million to one shot this week when chinchilla quintuplets were born near here. They're thriving, despite mama's refusal to nurse them.

The five were born on the chinchilla ranch of Mr. and Mrs. William E. Miles, who hand-feed the quints every hour. Born Monday, the five each measure about two inches and weigh one to one and a half ounces.

Experts on the South American animals say only four such births have been recorded in the United States. A pair of mature male and female chinchillas can bring as much as $1,500.

Perjury Charges Bring Ten Years

DES MOINES, Oct. 20 (AP)—A construction foreman who tried to shield his former wife from prosecution for drunken driving must serve a 10-year prison term for perjury, the Iowa supreme court ruled Tuesday.

The court upheld the conviction of Harris Bergan on a charge he lied when he told a grand jury he was the driver of a car involved in a collision here.

Bergan and his ex-wife, Viola Lantz, both were in one of the cars involved in the collision. Officers testified at Bergan's perjury trial that their investigation showed Mrs. Lantz was the driver. The day before Bergan was sentenced, Mrs. Lantz pleaded guilty to a drunken driving charge and was fined $100.

Primary Election Winners Are Listed for Junior High School

Winners of primary elections conducted Monday in the Twin Falls junior high school as part of the annual youth month program are announced by W. A. Pray, school vice principal.

Joint sponsors of the program are the Twin Falls Jaycees, school system and the city. Purpose of the program is to teach city government through student participation.

Winners of the primary contests will compete in a general election Oct. 27 to fill city appointive offices. A full round of campaigns and demonstrations will precede the general election.

Students elected to the city posts will select students to fill city appointive positions on the basis of letters of application submitted to them.

Students will climax the month-long observance Nov. 8 when they will work alongside city officials for the day, tour city facilities and be luncheon guests of the Twin Falls Jaycees.

Students winning positions on the seventh grade ballot include Richard Perry, Bob Alworth, Karen Ann Stoddard, Coleen Custer and Bart Strong.

Successful eighth grade candidates were John Daum, Bonnie Prance, David Nelson and Glenn Voyles. Ninth grade students surviving the primary race include Perry Randolph, Nelson DeKramer, Richard Nielson, Vern Williams, Sharon Bartlett and Pat Piersanti.

Thirty-eight students from the three grades competed in the primary elections. Each was required to obtain 10 signatures on his nominating petition before his name could be placed on the ballot.

Pray is general chairman of the youth month program. Co-chairmen assisting him are Arthur Smith and Dean Mosher.

Expert Plans Jaunt Report To Cattlemen

A report on a recent visit to South America and colored picture slides of the livestock situation there will be presented by Prof. C. W. Hickman, University of Idaho, at the annual banquet of the Idaho Cattlemen's association Friday evening at the Legion hall.

The banquet will begin at 7 p.m. with a session at 6:30 p.m. hosted by the Twin Falls Bank and Trust company. A dance will follow.

All cattlemen and their wives and friends are invited to attend the banquet and dance, according to Leon L. Weeks, secretary.

The association's 15th annual fall range bull sale will begin at 11 a.m. Saturday at the Filer fairgrounds.

Grading of the 200 entries from Idaho, Oregon, Utah, Washington and Wyoming will start at 10 a.m. Friday. Futurity and herdsire prospects will be judged at 1 p.m. Friday.

The Cow Belles, association auxiliary, will hold a coffee hour at the Rogerson hotel at 3 p.m. Saturday.

Bear Bagged

HAGERMAN, Oct. 20—Bob Tupper shot and killed a 500-pound black bear Sunday near Rocky Bar in Elmore county while hunting for deer or elk in the open hunt. Tupper shot a 220 grain bullet from a 30-40 Krag rifle and hit the bear in the left side of the neck.

The animal measured between six and seven feet long. He was judged to be several years old. The men reported they did not even see any game they had gone to hunt.

Study Shows Radar Proof Okay in Court

CHICAGO, Oct. 20 (AP)—Radar, now used in 45 states to nab speeding motorists, has withstood several legal challenges in the courts a study showed today.

But in general, the courts have held that radar evidence must be accompanied by the testimony of an expert, such as an electronics engineer, to be acceptable.

Presiding Municipal Judge Thomas M. Powers, Akron, O., addressing a session of the current national safety council convention, predicted that more "test cases" will arise.

But he said the public "has more confidence" in radar than it has in the speedometer method of apprehending speeders, which involves a hazardous chase by a police car.

Powers said the city of Columbus, O., started using radar in 1948. Since then, he said, its use has spread through 45 states and thousands of communities.

Powers cited several cases in which courts have ruled that radar evidence is not admissable unless expert testimony shows that the radar evidence was functioning properly and was capable of determining speeds accurately.

In one case involving Mrs. Anna K. Offerman, wife of a lawyer, the New York state supreme court ruled:

"Law enforcement should keep in stride with the advance of science, but science must not bring pushbuston justice unless and except where such justice is surrounded by the long-established rules of evidence."

The court granted Mrs. Offerman a new trial on several grounds, one of which was that the chief of the police radio division was not a radar expert and therefore was not qualified to vouch for the accuracy of the radar device.

Archbishop Okays Prayers for Rain

YORK, England, Oct. 20 (AP)—The Archbishop of York said Wednesday it is all right to pray for good weather—as long as you accept in advance that God may have other plans.

Some vicars of the Church of England have questioned recently whether such prayers might seem an attempted interference in the divine design for humanity.

The archbishop, Dr. Cyril Garbett, said in a prepared address to the annual Convocation of York:

"We know that the power which controls the weather is that of one who is love. Prayer is thus an act of trust in the power of love and God.

"We can rightly pray for a change in the weather, but we must not resent it if his answer is different from what we hoped."

Dinner Slated

HAGERMAN, Oct. 20—The music department of the Methodist church will be honored Sunday at a potluck dinner at 1 p.m. The WSCS is sponsoring the event. Mrs. Al Karaloff is general chairman.

Mrs. Delmar Pinkston will be in charge of decorations for the tables and Alfred Sandy will provide the games.

Political Experts Predict "Ike" Will Not Seek Presidential Office in 1956

By ED CREAGH

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20 (AP)—One reporter's opinion: President Eisenhower will not run for a second term.

This is climbing out on a long limb. What the voters do Nov. 2—whether they give the Republicans another two years in control of congress—could have a lot to do with making up the President's mind.

Unless, that is, he already has made it up. This reporter's impression is that he has.

Mind you, this is only an impression—an educated hunch at best. The only man who can say with certainty what's in the President's mind is the President himself. And, following well established practice, he's keeping his thoughts on this question very much to himself.

So any forecast, that is more than idle crystal gazing must be based on (1) what the President's attitude seems to be, as well as newsmen covering his activities can determine it, and (2) what the people around him think he will do.

It is from these sources that this reporter, who sometimes covers the White House, has formed the impression Eisenhower will not run again—always barring some unforeseen factor.

James B. Reston wrote in the New York Times recently that in his opinion it is doubtful the President will agree to run. Reston quoted an unnamed close associate of the President as telling him: "The one thing that really makes his eyes light is talk of his farm in Gettysburg."

Others have told this reporter much the same things. And I've been able to watch the President inspect the almost completed remodeling job on his Pennsylvania farm house.

It was hard to avoid the impression that here was a man lovingly planning a home—his first real home in many a year—that he meant to live in, and not just retire to on week-ends.

Another strong impression is that while Eisenhower is determined to do a good job as President, he still doesn't like the job and still less does he like the party politics—and some of the politicians—that go with it.

There is fairly general agreement among those in daily contact with the Presidents that, if his personal wishes were all that counted, he'd be delighted to say farewell to the White House in January, 1957.

But it's taken for granted there will be tremendous pressure from the Republicans to persuade Eisenhower—their first successful candidate for the presidency since 1928—to run again. And there are many who feel this pressure—which would include appeals to patriotism and duty—would be too strong to resist.

Germans' Navy Prepares to Take to Seas if Okay Given

BREMERHAVEN, Germany, Oct. 20 (AP)—A West German navy will be able to take to the seas 24 hours after final ratification of the London rearmament agreement—thanks to the U. S. navy.

It won't be much of a fleet at first—only some minesweepers, tenders, oilers and small patrol craft. Nevertheless, it will be a navy.

Under the London agreement, rearmed Germany would be limited to 20,000 naval personnel. Warships must me 3,000 tons or less.

There is no 3,000-ton vessel for the new navy immediately available. But a fleet of rebuilt German minesweepers now waits for ratification's X-day. These ships have been operating with German crews but under the American flag for two years.

Readiness of the West German republic to step into its own sea role has been made possible by a quiet program instituted in 1952 by the U. S. navy and a handful of its officers.

Two 10-boat squadrons of R-boats, each with a tender, regularly sweep the Baltic sea to clear World war II mines from sea lanes. The R-boats are 107 tons, have a top speed of 18 knots and carry no armament at present, but are equipped with radar.

It was common knowledge that not many mines have been located for a long time. Most of the World war II magnetic type mines are now sterile, and the moored mines presumably have already been swept.

But every day the squadrons go to sea, young Germans get additional naval training.

Officially designated as minesweeping readiness units, there are now 918 Germans, including 85 officers, in the American supervised program. They have a total of 42 craft. Both officers and men belong to the U. S. navy's German labor service unit B at Bremerhaven.

Ninety per cent of the officers and 60 per cent of the men are veterans of the old German navy. But the percentage of young recruits is rising. Ranks are the same as in the U. S. navy, although the highest ranking officer at present is a commander.

This officer, Hans John, is shore-based here. Chiefs of the two squadrons plying out of Travemuende on the west Baltic are lieutenant commanders.

In addition to sea training, shore schools for the Germans are conducted at Bremerhaven, where Capt. J. G. McLaughlin commands the U. S. naval advance base.

Take advantage of this remarkable offer today!

Prove to yourself—without risking a cent—how right all these people are.

Enjoy the thrill now of feeling your car respond to this new—actually different—gasoline.

ALL YOU DO

Stop by the next Richfield station you come to.

Just tell the Richfield Dealer to prove what this new gasoline will do in your own car.

You'll be the sole judge. No argument.

If you don't agree fully—that it's best in your car—you get back—not just your purchase price—but Double Your Money Back!

ONLY RICHFIELD DARED

When you drive away, you'll realize why Richfield has dared to make such an offer.

A smoother running car—quicker starting—faster pick-up—anti-knock performance—greater economy—these will show you why.

DOESN'T THIS MAKE SENSE?

The next day or so, you'll have to buy gasoline anyway. You can't go far without coming to a Richfield station. And you can't lose any money by trying New Richfield Ethyl.

You have nothing to lose but the fun and satisfaction these people—from all walks of life—are adding to their daily driving.

Take a tip from these pleased motorists. Just as they did, you can...

NOW

EVERY MINUTE, 81 MOTORISTS TRY

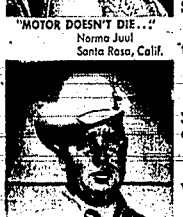

NEW RICHFIELD ETHYL

This amazing fact—unusual as the voluntary statements around this page—is based on current figures of average purchase and overall station operating schedules. Don't let "putting it off 'til tomorrow" keep you from the added driving pleasure these people are getting.

DOUBLY FAIR

Our Guaranty extends to the full capacity of your tank. Since it is not practical to empty the tank completely before refilling, you take two deliveries of not less than one-half tankful each.

After using your second delivery, you'll say "It's Best"—or we'll pay double your money back on a full tank of gasoline.

City Changes Electric Code By Ordinance

BURLEY, Oct. 20—A provision in Burley's electrical code was deleted by the city council Monday night and a substitute measure was approved.

The council's action changed ordinance number 565, deleting a special electrical rate scale for commercial refrigeration. The council then provided that future applicants for commercial refrigeration electrical service would be billed under a general service rate.

The council approved a project to install 100 to 150 feet of drain pipe in an open ditch on the west side of Park avenue. The open ditch is adjacent to school property.

An offer by the Cassia county school board to provide the city with a long term lease on a low pressure well site got the approval of the council. The well is on the 1900 block between Hansen and Norman streets.

Moving of bicycle racks from in front of the city's movie theaters to the rear of the fire house was approved by the council. The council also approved a ban on automobile parking in front of the theaters during the hours the theaters are open.

Mayor Leonard Salmon announced to the council that Gus Norwood, executive secretary of the Northwest Public Power association, would address a meeting of interested persons in Burley on Oct. 26.

The council agreed to drop the city's property damage and public liability insurance policy with the American Associated Insurance companies as of of Oct. 31. The council's finance committee was authorized to acquire a similar policy from the Travelers Insurance company, to become effective Nov. 1.

Building permits approved by the council were for a $100 addition to the home of P. E. Anderson, a $200 addition to a home by F. M. Lee, and for a frame garage, to be built by Lyle Briggs.

Peter Anderson Is Paid Last Tribute

GOODING, Oct. 20—Funeral services for Peter E. Andersen were conducted at 10 a. m. Monday in the LDS chapel.

Prelude music was played by Marjorie Davenport. The obituary was read by Bishop M. Bixley Cheney. A trio composed of LaPreal Wright, Noami Bullock and Rachel Howard sang and the invocation was given by Bishop R. L. Dixon. Speakers were Arvel Israelsen and Bishop Jack Smith. A violin solo was played by Mrs. Jay Felt and the benediction was given by Ray Blackburn.

Pallbearers were Elmer Anderson, Macyin Anderson, Lloyd Anderson, Bernal Anderson, Weiden Green and Eilert Israelsen.

Concluding services were held at Peterson, Utah.

2 Divorce Actions Begun at Gooding

GOODING, Oct. 20—Two suits for divorce were filed Tuesday in district court here.

Alberta Van Horn seeks custody of a minor child in a suit naming Clifford S. Van Horn as defendant. She charges extreme cruelty. The couple was married in Eagle, Ida., Nov. 22, 1953, and has no community property. Dan J. McClemahan, Boise, is attorney for the plaintiff.

Maude Lucille Griffiths, represented by Waller M. Oros, Boise, named John Francis Griffiths as defendant in a suit charging grievous mental suffering. They were married in Hazelton, Dec. 16, 1947, and have no children and no community property.

POLIO RISES

BOISE, Oct. 20 (AP)—The total of polio cases in Idaho rose to 103 for the year Wednesday with a report to the state health department that a 24-year-old Pocatello man had contracted the disease.

Dr. H. H. Scarborough, well-known vision specialist of Salt Lake City, will be at the Buhl Hotel, Monday and Tuesday, October 25th and 26, to examine eyes and fit glasses. His years of experience enables him to handle the "Hard-To-Fit" refraction cases.—adv.

New Officers Installed by Toastmasters Club

Installation Rite Held on Tuesday By Toastmasters

* * * *

Arnold Helwege was installed as president of Twin Falls Toastmasters club Tuesday evening at the Turf club.

C. E. Harder, Jerome, area district governor of Toastmaster International, was the installing officer.

Other new officers installed are Harald Gerber, vice president; James Kinney, secretary-treasurer; Albert Murphy, sergeant-at-arms, and Thomas R. Hovenden, assistant deputy district governor.

About 40 club members and their wives attended the "ladies night" banquet preceded by a cocktail hour at 7 p. m. Hovenden was toastmaster for the evening. Speakers were J. Edwin True, Max Lloyd, Helwege and Hovenden.

True is the outgoing president.

Divorce Sought

Charging mental cruelty, Glenn Fred Hagele filed a divorce suit in district court Wednesday against Mrs. Mary Patricia Hagele.

Married Aug. 17, 1945, in Spokane, they have four children. The plaintiff agrees to pay $100 per month for their support. He wants their 1954 Ford.

The plaintiff is represented by Rayborn, Rayborn and Kramer.

RALLY SCHEDULED

JEROME, Oct. 20—A Republican rally is scheduled for 8 p.m. Friday at the Valley school, Guy S. Simons, county chairman, reports. Simons said Louise Shadduck, secretary to Sen. Henry C. Dworshak, will be the principal speaker. The public is invited to attend.

Hitchhiker

DENVER, Oct. 20 (AP)—Eugene E. Nicks, 40, Portland, Ore., isn't quite sure how he got to this mountain city, but he's here—and in jail.

Nicks was arrested at Stapleton field yesterday after the pilot of a flight from Portland radioed he had a hitchhiker aboard. Nicks said he thought the plane was headed for Spokane, Wash.

Police locked him up when they found he didn't have a ticket for either destination. Didn't bother to buy one, Nicks said.

LICENSE SOUGHT

BURLEY, Oct. 20 — Gerald E. Denning, Idaho Falls, and Beverly G. Bero, Burley, applied for a marriage license at the office of county clerk Saturday.

Band at ISC Has 30 Valley Players

Legion Plans Veterans Day Rites in T. F.

Plans for observance of Veterans day Nov. 11 were completed Tuesday night at a meeting of Twin Falls post No. 7, American Legion, in the Legion hall here.

The Veterans day program will include flag-raising ceremonies, at 9 a.m. in each of the city's schools by a Legionnaire and an assembly at the high school. Legionnaires conducting the rituals will explain the new oath of allegiance to the flag for the students.

The post also went on record as endorsing a Veterans day resolution passed at an American Legion district convention in Burley Sunday. The resolution expresses appreciation to those merchants who have agreed to close their places of business during Veterans day.

In other action, the post discussed a proposed pheasant dinner Nov. 11 for patients at the veterans hospital in Boise and heard reports from Commander George Bever on the current membership drive. The local post, Bever said, has 196 1953 members and ranks first in the state in dues-paid 1955 membership.

A projected series of winter dances also was discussed. The first will be held in the Legion hall Oct. 29. Others are planned for Nov. 26, Dec. 17, Jan. 14 and Feb. 12.

The program included a dramatization of recent testimony involving John W. Powell's publication, "China Review," used by Chinese communists in indoctrination of American prisoners of war in Korea. Participating were Attorneys Robert Stephan, H. N. Jewell, William Hakes and Douglas Kramer.

The electrum used by ancient peoples was about 75 per cent gold and 25 per cent silver.

BPW Workshops Present Theme At District Meet

GOODING, Oct. 20—Workshops carrying out the theme "adventure in achievement" were conducted at the southcentral district of the Business and Professional Women's clubs which met Sunday at the Grange hall.

Deloris Pope, Gooding, district director, Myrtle Anderson, Twin Falls; Amy Gamble, Hailey; Margaret Jacobs, Burley, and Edith Nancolas, Jerome, were in charge of the workshops.

Miss Pope conducted the business meeting. The constitution and by-laws were revised to conform with the state constitution.

"Get out the vote" was stressed during the meeting with miniature ballots being used as name badges.

Decorations for the luncheon were patriotic. Mrs. Jean Jordan gave a reading and Mrs. Helen Smith, Helen Lucke and Helen Sackman sang a medley during the program.

Guests were Ann Daniels, state first vice president, Pauline Toombs, Marian Toombs and Carolyn Ball, Pocatello.

Clubs attending the district meeting were from Twin Falls, Buhl, Jerome, Sun Valley, Burley and Rupert.

Nuptial Service Weds Peterson, Lucille Overlin

HANSEN, Oct. 20—Lucille Overlin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Overlin, Kimberly, and Robert W. Peterson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Peterson, Twin Falls, were united in marriage at a candlelight ceremony Sunday afternoon at the Hansen Missionary Baptist church.

Elder J. L. Wisdom, Klamath Falls, Ore., pastor of the Missionary Baptist church there, performed the services before an alter flanked by candelabra of lighted tapers and baskets of white chrysanthemums.

The bride chose a chapel length gown of white satin with a nylon net overskirt. The fitted bodice of Chantilly lace was fashioned with long, pointed sleeves and a scalloped neckline. Her fingertip veil of imported illusion net edged in lace was held by a halo cap fashioned of orange blossoms and seed pearls. She carried a bouquet of red roses. Her jewelry included a rhinestone necklace and matching earrings belonging to the bridegroom's mother.

Mrs. William Broner, sister of the bride, was matron of honor and Mrs. James Berkley, sister of the bridegroom, acted as bridesmaid. Misses Jane Berkley, niece of the bridegroom, was flower girl.

Frank Carroll attended the bridegroom. Loyd Overlin and William Broner were ushers.

Patsy Arment sang, accompanied by Mrs. Blake Prochilich, who also played background and wedding music.

The bride's mother wore a gray dress with pink velvet trim with black and pink accessories. Mrs. Peterson was attired in a dark green dressmaker ensemble with beige accessories. Both wore corsages of pink roses.

A reception was held at the church following the ceremony. Mrs. Harvey Overlin, sister-in-law of the bride, presided at the guest book and Ramona Legg was in charge of the gift table. Mrs. Richard Mason poured and Mrs. Ray Legg served the cake.

For a going-away ensemble, the bride chose a powder blue suit with black accessories and a red rose corsage.

The new Mrs. Peterson is a 1950 graduate of Kimberly high school. She attended Twin Falls Business college and has been employed by the Travelers Insurance company, Salt Lake City. The bridegroom was graduated in 1944 from Kimberly high school and served three years in the air force. He saw overseas duty in Arabia for one year.

The couple will live in Murtaugh, where he is employed by the Idaho ranch. He is also a member of the Holly Houfburg orchestra.

Out-of-town guests included Mrs. Adeline McCammon and family, Shoshone; Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Hopper, Boise; Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Bartholomew, Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Bartholomew and Mack Ambrose, all Jerome; Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Neimann, Mr. and Mrs. A. Valerio and daughter and Mr. and Mrs. Parnum Warr, all Murtaugh; Mr. and Mrs. Paul Saenger and family, Filer, and Mrs. J. L. Wisdom, Klamath Falls.

Following close of farm work the couple plans a wedding trip to Canada.

Mr. and Mrs. Peterson were honored recently at a miscellaneous shower given by Mrs. Eliza Arment, Hansen.

Jerome Scouts To Serve Area

JEROME, Oct. 20—Cheryl Heiss, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clark Heiss, and Carole Hosman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Hosman, have been chosen for the Gem area as the most representative Girl Scouts in Idaho.

The girls, who have been Girl Scouts for the past eight years and members of Girl Scout troop No. 12, were named by an area committee at the recent regional conference held in Sun Valley. Notice of the selection came this week from the area office in Boise.

These two Scouts will now be eligible to compete with senior Scouts of Washington, Oregon, Montana and Alaska for representation at the region. Regional winners will be named in January.

If chosen they have an opportunity to go as an exchange Scout, a member of a ranger team, or exchange camper to "Our Chalet" near Adelboden, Switzerland. Four United States Girl Scout regions are eligible each year for representation for these events on a rotation basis.

An exchange Scout gets camping experience abroad with Girl Scouts or Guides of other nationalities, visiting in their homes and learning about their countries.

But to be real the laughter must be spontaneous. It must spring joyously from a carefree spirit. The shrill shriek of the tickled child is not laughter. It is the nervous response to an artificial stimulant. It is not to be encouraged lest it end in exhaustion and tears.

There are some people who seem to find it hard to respect children. They are unwilling to allow them privacy of person or personal dignity.

A girl of 10 years was reading when her uncle came into the room. She looked up, rose to say "How-do-do," then settled back to continue her reading. Her uncle rumpled her hair and she dodged and said, "Oh, Uncle, please, I'm reading." Then he laughed uproariously and began tickling her. In a rage she threw her book at him and rushed out of the room crying. She was scolded for bad manners. Uncle fell ill-used.

I am not going to encourage children to throw books at their elders but it would be fine if the elders kept their hands off children of all ages save when ministering to them. Children should be treated with the same consideration shown other people. That is not too much to ask of anybody.

Some children are shy because they are afraid. Dr. Patri tells how to help a shy child overcome his shyness in leaflet P-12 "The Shy Child." To obtain a copy, send 10 cents in coin to him, c/o Times-News, P. O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y.

Gavilan Is 19-10 Choice to Keep Welter Title Tonight

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 20 (AP)—After two postponements due to hand trouble and a case of mumps, Kid Gavilan finally is ready to defend his world welterweight title against New York's Johnny Saxton tonight at Convention hall.

The sleek Cuban remains a strong 19-10 favorite in the 15-round match, despite the usual rumors that he will have trouble making the 147-pound class limit.

The two fighters will weigh in at noon today at the offices of the Pennsylvania Athletic commission for the nationally televised bout starting at 8 p. m. (EST).

Promoter Herman Taylor talks of a gate of 11,000 and $80,000 with an advance sale of about $30,000. The advance sale just about matches the total paid back in refunds after the fight was postponed, July 14 and Sept. 1.

Gavilan hasn't fought since April when he failed in his bid for Bobo Olson's middleweight crown.

The Saxton match was set back for the first time when Gavilan, trouping Cuba with a song and dance unit, reported his hand was in a cast. The September show was postponed on the eve of the fight when the doctors discovered the Kid had the mumps.

Fully recovered—Gavilan claims—the champ is confident of defending successfully for the eighth time and moving on to a match with challenger Carmen Basilio or another shot at Olson's 160-pound crown.

Gavilan, 28, is a veteran of 116 pro fights since 1943 with a 98-14-4 record. He has knocked out 27 opponents and never has been stopped. Only two men ever knocked down Gavilan—Ike Williams in 1946 and Basilio last year at Syracuse.

A resourceful boxer with the tremendous asset of being able to shake off the hardest punches, Gavilan has become more of a puncher in recent years.

Saxton likes to crowd inside, nullifying the power of free swingers.

The 24-year-old Golden Glove grad never has been knocked out in 47 fights as a pro since 1949. He has 42-2-2 record, losing only to Gil Turner and Del Flanagan last year. He drew with Wallace (Bud) Smith, one of the top men to floor him, and also went 10 rounds to a draw with the undistinguished Johnny Lombardo in his last outing, Aug. 11.

Behind Scenes Man in A's Deal Revealed

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 20 (AP)—Jack Renael could be the most unpopular man in Kansas City's history.

Rensel is the man behind the scenes in the sudden, successful drive to keep the Philadelphia Athletics' baseball franchise here rather than let it go to Kansas City.

A hustling advertising agency representative who once served as part-time public address announcer and jack-of-all trades for the Philadelphia Phillies, Rensel emerged Tuesday as the force behind the "keep - the - A's - in - Philadelphia" movement.

Who says Rensel played such a prominent role? Roy Mack, and that's a pretty fair source. For Roy, the Athletics' executive vice president, has been credited with putting up the big fight to keep the club where it's been for the last 54 years.

Mississippi Has Nation's Best Offense

NEW YORK, Oct. 20 (AP)—Unbeaten teams and once-beaten but increasingly powerful Army are making a mass assault on top positions in major-college offense statistics, NCAA service bureau figures showed Tuesday. Mississippi and Colorado, boasting five victories each, hold first place in total offense, rushing and passing, and coming up fast are Oklahoma, Boston U, UCLA, Minnesota and the Cadets.

Mississippi took over the total offense lead from Colorado this week, bringing its average to 423.4 yards a game as the Buffaloes dropped to third with 416 behind Boston U's 418.6.

Mississippi also retained its aerial leadership, averaging 189.4 yards a game to Oregon's 184.6 with no one else within 20 yards.

Colorado kept its grip on the top spot in rushing by a wide margin. It has made 368.8 yards a game on the ground, to 318.6 for Texas Tech and 292.5 for third-place Army. Oklahoma jumped into fourth from 35th.

The Sooners produced the biggest running attack of the season, 333 yards, against Kansas Saturday, to make their move.

And that was only one of several single-game highs produced last week-end. UCLA, 7-2, rolled against Stanford, Dartmouth's 24 completed passes and Stanford's 46 attempts were all high-water marks for 1954.

The UCLA outburst gave it the highest season total on points, too, 274. But in average per game, the scoring leader is Wichita with 44.3, *followed by Boston U's 42.5, Ari*zona's 41.3, UCLA's 40.8, Colorado's 38.8, Denver's 34.0, Mississippi's 34.2, Army's 33.5, Cincinnati's 32.0 and Oklahoma's 31.8.

Hunters Need 11 Shots to Fell Big Bear

DAYTON, Wash., Oct. 20 (AP)—Two hunters told today how it took 11 shots between them to kill "the biggest bear we ever saw" in the Palouse creek area eight miles east of here Sunday.

Glenn Ford, Touchet, and A. Polunski, Dayton, told Fred Van Arsdol, state game protector—in the Columbia county region, they wounded the black bear with two shots, and the wild chase was on.

The hunters picked up the bloody trail left by the wounded animal and tracked him down. Ford fired another shot and the bear reared up on its hind legs and then charged, roaring as he battered down the brush.

"We couldn't have run," Ford said. "There was too much brush. I fired four more shots but they didn't even slow him down."

Polunski fired three more shots as the huge animal while Ford reloaded his gun and fired the fatal shot into the bear's head. The animal fell 10 feet away from the perspiring hunters.

Ford said he was trembling so badly after the animal toppled he had to sit down.

Van Arsdol, who spent all his life in the Cascades and Blue mountains, said the bear was the biggest he had ever seen, that it must have weighed about 800 pounds.

State Game Commission Will Ask Lawmakers for License Fee Boost

BOISE, Oct. 20 (AP)—The Idaho fish and game commission voted Tuesday to ask the 1955 legislature for increases ranging from $1 to $3 in prices of hunting and fishing licenses and game tags.

The commission then adjourned its fall meeting after staying in session only two days. Earlier, it had voted to open portions of the Deer Flat wild life refuge at Lake Lowell to upland game bird hunting.

The commission recommended that the cost of combination hunting and fishing licenses to residents be raised from $3 to $5; resident hunting and resident fishing licenses each from $2 to $3, deer tags from $1 to $2 and elk tags from $2 to $5.

A commission spokesman said a recent survey of license fees in the 11 western states showed Idaho "conspicuously low." For instance, Idaho's combination hunting and fishing license is lower than any western state except Colorado, which charges several times as much for game tags.

The commission also voted to explore the possibility of extending this year's hunting licenses to cover the last three days of the duck season, which ends Jan. 3.

It modified its regulations on the Deer Flat refuge, to conform with federal regulations permitting hunting of pheasants, quail and Hungarian partridges in areas in which ducks may be hunted.

The upland game bird season on the refuge, as elsewhere, will begin at noon Saturday and end Nov. 21. Duck shooting hours, a half hour before sunrise until sunset, will apply to upland game birds also.

Hunters must limit their dogs to two and must not allow them to run at large. A state license will serve as a federal permit for hunting on the refuge.

Idaho bag limits will apply.

The St. Louis Cardinals' minor league farm clubs have players from 41 states, the District of Columbia, Canada, Mexico, Puerto Rico, Cuba, and the Panama Canal Zone.

Spot for Casting in Olympic Games Sought

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20 (AP)—A quiet campaign is being fought to right what its backers regard as a major wrong: The fact that the world's greatest participation sport, fishing, has no place in the Olympics. Cliff Netherton, a Washington high school teacher who is one of the prime movers in the campaign, said Tuesday he and his co-workers are convinced they can build up enough support for international casting competition to get it into the 1960 Olympics.

"The Olympics are supposed to be concerned primarily with competition between individuals, but the trend has been going the other way," Netherton said.

Netherton said "there are more than 40 million fishermen in the United States alone and more money is spent on fishing equipment than any other kind of sporting gear."

There have been international angling events for many years. Netherton said, but there never has been "the one big championship tournament."

So, he added, two years ago he and a group of Americans launched the International Casting Federation. Since then, England, Australia, Scotland, Norway, Sweden and Holland have joined.

"We have two aims," Netherton said. "One is to get casting into the Olympics. The other is to codify casting rules and provide for annual international tournaments."

Wallick Wins Main Go on Weekly Card

For the second week in succession a disqualification ended the main event on the Radio Rendevoo grappling card.

But Tuesday night the tables were turned as Leo Wallick, who was a member of the losing team in last week's tag team feature, was awarded the verdict over George Dusette in the main go. Dusette teamed with Bill Melby to win last week's feature.

Wallick used a reverse jackknife hold to take Dusette say "uncle" in 20:34 for the first fall in the bout which had a two out of three falls, one hour time limit. Dusette was disqualified 34 minutes after the second phase of the match opened for illegal tactics.

Using a gypsy thrust for the first fall and an arm whip for the third, the colorful Gypsy Joe defeated Kenny Mains in one semifinal match. Mains employed a flying mare and body press to register the second fall.

Mains replaced Steve Nelry on the card.

Successful use of a Boston crab earned Joe Campbell the first fall in his semi-windup bout with Jack Lipscomb. Campbell was awarded the decision a bit later when Lipscomb was disqualified by referee Reyes Gracia.

Both semifinal bouts had 45-minute time limits and were for the best two out of three falls.

Burley School Fall Tennis Program Ends

BURLEY, Oct. 20—Last week Burley high school wrapped up its fall tennis program with the completion of an intramural tournament. The tourney stretched over a two-week period with 50 boys and girls participating.

Jim Maggart defeated Ben Maggart for the boys' singles championship then they combined to defeat Gordon Powers and Donald Janak for the doubles title.

Parley Baker and Irene Scott teamed to make the mixed doubles championship from Reid Barlow and Lee Falk.

Miss Falk decisioned JoAnn Parker in the girls' singles play. Miss Falk teamed with Betty Maughan to form the championship girls' doubles team, whipping Beverly Platt and Carolyn Nielsen for the crown.

The high school tennis club sponsored the tourney. The same organization, which holds membership in the United States Lawn Tennis Association, plans to sponsor a city meet with junior and senior divisions in the spring.

Burley is hoping to line up matches with other high schools next spring. Ellis Boden and Paul Markowski are the coaches.

Recently the city council voted to install floodlights at the courts.

MARKETS AT A GLANCE

NEW YORK, Oct. 20 (AP)—
Stocks—Higher; steels lead rally.
Bonds—Steady; governments quiet.
Cotton—Irregular; trading quiet.
Chicago:
Wheat—Easy; increased hedging pressure.
Corn—Steady; trade light.
Hogs—Advanced 25 to 50 cents; top $19.35.
Cattle—Steers steady to 50 cents higher; top $30.00.

NEW YORK, Oct. 20 (AP)—Share prices rallied on a broad front in the stock market today and most managed to hold their gains into late afternoon.

Some steel shares and selected other issues climbed better than two points. Generally, the best show of strength was by the steels, rails, aircrafts and motors. Airlines, oils, rubbers and radio-televisions also were prominent on the upside.

Volume improved, coming to approximately 2½ million shares for the day.

Eden Is Awarded Honor by Queen

LONDON, Oct. 20 (AP) — Queen Elizabeth today made Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden a Knight of the Garter, Britain's highest order of chivalry.

The Queen knighted the Conservative party's apparent successor to Prime Minister Winston Churchill during an audience at Buckingham Palace.

A palace announcement said the Queen received Eden shortly before he left for Paris to attend the conference on German rearmament.

Dividend Set

Keystone income common stock fund S-2 has declared a regular distribution from net investment income of 24 cents per share, it was announced today by E. W. McRoberts and company, Idaho dealers for Keystone funds.

In addition, a special distribution of 55 cents per share from net realized gains also has been declared by Keystone fund S-2.

Both distributions are payable Nov. 15 to holders of record at the close of business on Oct. 31.

Work Increasing

Job openings in Magic Valley showed an increase again last week, reports R. S. Cutler, manager of the Twin Falls employment security office.

Jobs last week totaled 4,847 of which 4,641 were agricultural openings, an increase of 2,176 in agricultural job opportunities. Increases were due to labor demands for the potato harvest. [illegible]

Grain

CHICAGO, Oct. 20 (AP)—Soybeans moved up a little on the board of trade today but the rest of the market was unable to get anywhere.

Wheat started out firm, continuing its forward progress of the past two sessions, and then fell back below the previous close as hedging pressure increased. Rye dropped a couple of cents after a firm start. Corn and oats hung close to Tuesday's final prices.

Wheat closed ⅛ to 1 cent lower, December 2.18-2.18½; corn ⅛-⅜ higher, December 1.52¼-1.52; oats unchanged to ⅛ higher, December 80-79⅞; rye 2¼-2½ lower, December 1.32⅛; soybeans 3 to 5 cents higher, November 2.78-2.78¾, and lard 10 cents lower to 5-10 a hundred pounds higher, October 17.40-18.00.

Nurses Mark Anniversary On Thursday

LONDON, Oct. 20 (AP)—One hundred years ago Thursday a determined and dedicated English nurse set sail for the Crimea where Britain and France were at war with Russia.

Reports of suffering among the sick and wounded soldiers had aroused Britain's secretary of war, Sidney Herbert. He sent the nurse—Florence Nightingale—on a historic mission of mercy.

Red Tape

In the utter confusion of battlefield casualty stations, the 34-year-old nurse fought through smarls of military red tape to organize effective care for the sick and maimed. The death rate in her hospitals dropped from 42 per cent to 2 per cent.

Among her staff of nurses were five nuns from Our Lady of Mercy convent in Bermondsey, the first Roman Catholic convent established in England after the reformation. Bernard Cardinal Griffin, archbishop of Westminster, Britain's leading Catholic churchman, has scheduled a high mass in their memory.

Returns Home

After the Crimean war, Miss Nightingale returned to England and turned her battle-tested talents to reform of civilian hospital care.

In 1907, when she was 87, Miss Nightingale was awarded the order of merit, one of Britain's highest honors. Three years later the nurse whose name became a legend in her lifetime died in her London home.

Benefit

The Twin Falls Grange is sponsoring a benefit with a little different angle Saturday night.

The group to benefit will provide most of the entertainment.

The event is designed to raise funds to send the Knull Grange band to the National Grange convention. So the Knull Grange band will play for the benefit dance Saturday night. Dancing is scheduled to start about 8:30 p. m.

Small Fry Stay Clear of Old Haunted Farm With Approach of Halloween Date

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 20 (AP)—The smaller fry are steering clear of the old Swartzel farm in Montgomery county on these dark October nights. With Halloween just around the corner, the ghosts out there seem too real for comfort.

Not that the farm is really haunted. It just gives you the creeps.

Fellow named Winter Zero Swartzel, whose imagination was as improbable as his name, spent a lifetime turning his farm into a devil's playground.

The farm, if you can call it that, is planted with wooden poles, hundreds of bottles and tin cans and odd-sized bells dangle from the poles. When the wind rises the bottles tinkle, the cans rattle and the bells begin to chime.

It sounds like discordant echoes of "McNamara's Band" played by some demented shades.

Swartzel, who was said to have got his peculiar name because he was born during a very cold winter, never told anyone what the poles and noisemakers were for. Nor did he explain the other oddments which litter the 20-acre "farm."

In the day time the place might pass for a junkyard. Besides its forest of poles, it features a number of tin silhouettes. Some are of kneeling men, another is an Indian on horseback and one resembles a Civil war general in heroic stance.

Two 20-foot poles are crowned with skulls of horses. There is a cut-out figure of a hand and elbow which serves as a sort of centerpiece for two statues of kangaroos. There is a pile of large rocks, each about six feet in diameter, and the story is that Swartzel paid $550 to have them hauled in.

And one other decoration hints even more strongly that Swartzel might have been a frustrated Salvador Dali. Although the house and barn are mostly hidden from the road by brush and trees, one item is clearly visible through the shrubbery. It is a huge painted eye that stars blankly from the side of the house.

Swartzel has been dead two years, a fact which doesn't help much if you are near his property in the dark of the moon.

For reasons he took with him to his grave, he specified in his will that the farm should be given to the Ohio State Archaeological and Historical society.

People from the society have looked it over and said they didn't want it.

Two of Swartzel's brothers are contesting the will. No one knows why they want the farm. Nothing is raised on it.

Unless you count goose-pimples.

"You'll like Lucky—the aged beer"

says Jack Kramer
America's Greatest Tennis Player

"When playing tennis, it's important how you serve," explains Jack Kramer. "And when you entertain, it's important what you serve. That's why I serve Lucky Lager. I can always depend on the quality of Lucky Lager because I know it's aged. The brew-date is stamped on every label so you can see it for yourself!"

"Sometimes I think I like swimming as well as tennis," says Kramer. "But one thing I'm always certain about—and that's my preference for Lucky Lager. It's my first choice." You'll find Lucky Lager has a smoother, mellower, more refreshing taste. Try Lucky yourself! You'll agree, it's one of the world's finest beers.
